Which was adopted.

Whereupon the Speaker appointed the following gentlemen, as said committee : Messrs. Lane, Covington, Jones of S., Hull, Sullivan, Winstandley, Sackett, De Bruler, Fuller, Blythe, and Mills.

Mr. Harlan then arose and announced the death of the Hon. Andrew Kennedy, as follows :

MR. SPEAKER :

I arise for the purpose of performing a mournful duty, and none other than to announce the death of a faithful friend and public servant of the State of Indiana.

And now, whilst the feeling of devoted grief is yet warm in our hearts, and that tokens of sorrow and deep affliction are still upon our eyelids; and our faces still wet with the tear of mourning; it becomes necessary that I should give renewed pain and grief to our finer feelings, by hastily passing in quick review before them, another of the ordinary dispensations of Him, who rules over all matter, both animate and inanimate; and which has deprived the nation of an upright and noble man; and his adopted State of a faithful and approved public servant; and myself of one of the loveliest and best of friends.

I mean the Hon. Andrew Kennedy — who died at the Palmer House, in the town of Indianapolis, on Friday night, the 31st of December, 1847, in the 38th year of his age, after an illness of about twenty-one days.

At which time his soul quietly left this tenement of clay, and took its flight to that world which follows the resurrection of the dead, and his body gently sunk into the bosom of its mother earth, away from father, mother, wife, brother, sister, children or friends, and home.

I shall not attempt on this occasion, to pass a formal and labored eulogy upon the character and personal qualities of my departed friend — feeling that I shall best acquit myself of this painful task, and the respect which I owe, and am proud to cherish for the well known and manly virtues of his own choice, by limiting myself to a careful yet unostentatious detail of his life and character.

Mr. Kennedy was born on the 24th of July, 1810, about five miles east of Dayton, in the county of Montgomery, and State of Ohio. His parents were professing christians of that orderly and peaceable society called Quakers, under whose kind tuition he remained until he was about sixteen years old, when he was apprenticed to the blacksmithing business. After following his trade a short time, he went into the mercantile business, and continued there but a short while, until it was ascertained that his partner had so involved them by bad management and want of economy, that it was necessary for him to retire from the firm.

From that he applied himself to the study of the law in the town of Connersville in this State, where he was licensed as an attorney, and gave evidence of his future usefulness as a lawyer and statesman.

From Connersville he removed to the town of Muncie, in Delaware county, and there practiced his profession with great energy of character, and was one of the foremost and most successful criminal lawyers in the State. In the year 1836, he was elected to fill a vacancy in the Senate of the State, receiving every vote in his own county but thirteen.

In the year following he was again chosen Senator for a full term.

Mr. Speaker, I need not allude to his services as a Senator in the State of Indiana; the history of the country and many of those who are now within these walls can bear testimony to his manly and noble services, to his acute, quick and eloquent bursts of devotion and patriotism, to his sound and eloquent debates.

In January, 1840, he was chosen by his political friends, as an Elector of the then 4th Congressional district of the State.

In the May following he was elected to Congress from the same district.

In August, 1843, he was again returned to Congress from the 10th Congressional district, (the State having been in the meantime apportioned into Congressional districts, which threw him in the 10th.)

In 1845, he was again returned to Congress. On all of which occasions he was the unanimous choice of his own party.

In 1847, the nomination for Congress was again tendered to him—but he manfully and generously declined—urging as a reason that he had been so much in public life, and away from home, that his wife and children were almost strangers to him; that he desired to attend to their education, their nurture and admonition.

And who can doubt but that higher honors, and greater fame yet awaited him.

I hope and believe, that I shall not be deemed by any one who hears me, at all exaggerating when I assert, that the lamented Kennedy, whilst connected with his public services either in the Legislature of his adopted State, or in the Congress of the nation, gave constant and continued proof of his sound, practical and statesman-like intellect, unyielding honesty of purpose—and a generosity of soul and will, that ever qualified him for the performance of all generous, hospitable, and noble deeds—and which at all times saved him from the charge of any act that was ignoble, sordid, or illiberal.

He was blessed with unusual gentleness, harmony, and love. The frankness of his manners, and cordiality of his conduct, rendered him strikingly agreeable, and a personal favorite with all his friends and acquaintances.

In private life he was remarkably bland, courteous and interesting. And his death has thrown a sorrow and disappointment to many a kind and innocent bosom, which his living moments never failed to fill with the liveliest hopes of future goodness and prosperity.

Mr. Orr, on leave, offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, unanimously, That we have heard with profound regret, the death of our distinguished fellow-citizen, the Honorable ANDREW KENNEDY, who departed this life on the 31st day of December, 1847.

Resolved, unanimously, That in the death of Andrew Kennedy, society has lost one of its brightest ornaments, and the State one of its faithful servants.

Resolved, unanimously, That we deeply condole with his afflicted family, the loss they have sustained, and that we hereby tender to his bereaved widow, our mutual sympathy.

Resolved, unanimously, That his Excellency, the Governor, be requested to forward to the widow of the deceased, a copy of the foregoing resolutions.

Resolved, unanimously, That as an evidence of the high esteem entertained for the deceased, this House do now adjourn.

Which was adopted.

Whereupon, the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 11, 1848.

House of Representatives :*

Having convened for the performance of the important duties committed to your charge, by the people of the State, it becomes my duty (a duty, which, it is regretted, I was prevented from performing previous to your late adjournment, by severe bodily injury; the result of a recent accident,) to communicate to you the condition of the Commonwealth, and to suggest such measures as may seem to be demanded for the preservation and increase of the public welfare.

In doing so, it affords me a heartfelt pleasure to congratulate you upon the general prosperity which has prevailed within our borders during the past year. We have enjoyed the blessings of health in an unusual degree; the supremacy of the laws have been maintained, and the labor of the husbandman has been bountifully rewarded by luxuriant crops, which he has been enabled to dispose of at liberal prices; thus giving a renewed impulse to business of every description. Evidences of great improvement in the condition of the people are every where visible. Our cities and towns are steadily increasing in wealth and population, and the primeval forests, which still cover a large portion of the country, are rapidly disappearing to give place to the rich products which are drawn by the hands of industry from a generous and fertile soil. For these, and the numberless other advantages we enjoy, we owe unbounded gratitude to God, in whose hands are the destinies of nations, who has placed us in a land of religion, liberty, and plenty; thus enabling us to advance our moral and social condition, and to acquire that political and physical independence from which so large a proportion of the human family is debarred. It becomes us, therefore, to acknowledge His goodness with suitable reverence, and to invoke a continuance of his blessings upon our beloved country, and upon our efforts to discharge with fidelity the trusts which have been committed to us. The increased prosperity of the country, I cannot but think, is, under Divine Providence, in a great measure to be attributed to a wise change in the policy of the General Government of the Union with regard to our commerce with foreign nations. The repeal of the high tariff of 1842, and the adoption of a more liberal system of duties by the act of 1846, has not only had the effect of producing an increase of revenue to the national treasury, but an increase of profits to the agriculturists. This class of our fellow-citizens, constituting the main foundation of our national wealth and prosperity, has, by means of diminished duties on commerce at home and abroad, been enabled to find a market for a greater proportion of their surplus products than they could otherwise have disposed of to advantage. Making every allowance for any influence on prices which may have been produced by a season of unusual scarcity in Europe, yet, when we consider that how great soever may be the necessity of the people of other countries; their ability to purchase food from us is limited by their ability to pay for it by the produce of their own labor, it is evident that every restriction which prevents us from receiving such produce in return must reduce the quantity or value of that which they receive from us. Happily for all parties, for the over-producer of our own country, as well as the starving consumer abroad, upon the occurrence of a general failure of the crops in Europe in 1846, the restrictions which had formerly existed were in a great measure removed, and we were prepared to reap the full benefit of the increased demand thus created.

It is to be remarked, also, that while those engaged in the cultivation of our soil have been so greatly benefitted by the opening of a foreign market, the manufacturing and commercial classes have enjoyed at least their full share of the common prosperity. The great increase of manufactories, and of manufacturing and commercial capital since the passage of the comparatively low tariff of 1846, proves that these interests are in a most flourishing condition. In fact, the agricultural interest so greatly predominates in this country, that most others are in a great degree dependent upon it, and must to some extent flourish or languish, as that becomes prosperous or depressed. Indiana is especially an agricultural State, and it is of the utmost importance to our citizens that the sound and enlightened policy of low duties or a revenue tariff—of striking off all restrictions upon trade not required by the wants of the public treasury economically administered—should continue to be maintained. Many of our fellow-citizens, who entertained serious apprehensions that the establishment of this policy would be fraught with great evil, if not with ruin to most of our leading interests, are doubtless gratified to find at length that their apprehensions were not only without foundations, but that the very reverse is true. It affords me still greater pleasure to be able to remark, that the present increase of prosperity, appears to be founded, at least to a far greater extent than heretofore, upon a solid and substantial basis. It was not brought about as formerly by a wild and extravagant spirit of speculation, nor by a similar expansion of currency, but mainly by the gradual and wholesome operations of a profitable trade, confined within its legitimate channels. There is now no great banking institution under national authority, overshadowing all the other monetary institutions of the country, capable of wielding an almost irresistible political power, and able by means of a vast capital and the control of the national treasury itself, to contract or expand the amount of currency in circulation throughout the entire country, and consequently to cause the prices of every kind of property to rise or fall as it might supply or withdraw the means of payment. Since the existence of the last institution of the kind in the United States more than ten years have elapsed, and more than six since its gigantic substitute under the same name, created by the Legislature of a sister State, ceased its operations as a bank of circulation. The whole country since their extinction has been steadily advancing from adversity to prosperity, and our subsequent experience, has, it is believed, been long enough to settle the so much agitated question, how far such an institution is necessary to the trade, the productiveness, the enterprise, or the general welfare of the country. The constitutional treasury by which the collection and disbursement of the national revenue are entirely disconnected from banking operations, has been in full operation more than twelve months. Yet the inconveniences which many, no doubt, honestly apprehended, from the absence of a national bank and the establishment of an independent treasury, have not been experienced. On the contrary, during the time which has elapsed since its establishment, the largely increased disbursements rendered necessary by the existing war, have been made through its agency at various and distant points, without loss and with the requisite ease and promptitude.

A far greater amount of gold and silver is infused into all the channels of our circulation, than at any former period of the history of our country. Exchanges upon all points are uniform, cheap and readily to be obtained, and in these respects they favorably contrast, it is believed, with those of any time during the sway of a Bank of the United States. They are not based upon fictitious movements of bank credit, but on the true and only sound principle upon which they can be well regulated, namely, upon actual business transactions between different sections of the country. When it is considered that during the experimental operation of these leading measures of national policy, it has been their lot to encounter the adverse influences of a foreign war, which cannot fail more or less to affect the trade, and resources of a country, their intrinsic merits and the wisdom of their adoption must be still more manifest. In fine, every thing indicates that the present appearance of financial improvement throughout the country, is no illusion, and that a fair promise is afforded, of its being substantial and permanent.

Nevertheless it should be remembered that when the tide of prosperity is swelling to its greatest height there is the greatest need of caution. The irrepressible energy and love of enterprise of the American people, are apt to induce them, when fired with success, to overleap the bounds of prudence, and fall into extravagant and ruinous speculations. The sure, and only sure remedy against this threatening evil, is, the observance of economy and industry, and above all, to resist the allurements of credit. Occasion was taken in former communications to express my serious convictions that the observance of this caution is essential to the continuance of our welfare and prosperity. Impelled by a filial regard for the State which is the seat of my home and my attachments, and which has laid me under deep and renewed obligations, I cannot omit in this crisis of our affairs, to once more caution my fellow citizens against a practice which experience has proven to be fraught with ruin.

It is earnestly to be hoped that while they industriously and vigorously improve the advantages that are now within their reach, they will be sufficiently careful to avoid the evils into which they have fallen from this cause on former occasions.

The present war with Mexico is deeply to be regretted, inasmuch as the consequences of a resort to arms, are at all times seriously to be deplored, and more especially by a people blessed with a government and institutions like ours. Nevertheless, the Congress of the United States, vested by the Constitution with the appropriate power, having declared, by a vote nearly approaching to unanimity, that war exists, and by the act of Mexico, it becomes us as American citizens, to uphold the rights, the honor, and the law of our common country, at all hazards and in every emergency. The history of our race has but too lamentably proved, that how great soever may be its desire, peace is not in the power of any nation. Unless the pacific spirit and policy of one power, is met by a corresponding spirit on the part of others, the question in dispute is left in the last resort, to the arbitrament of the sword. Few instances, it is believed, are to be found on the page of history, of a war more justifiable, by the laws of nations, so far as the United States are concerned, than that in which they are now engaged with Mexico. Passing by a long series of aggressions, running back into the year 1821, which was the first of her asserted independence, against the persons and property of our citizens, for which reparation was promised by its accredited agents, only to be followed by disappointment—passing by the patience and long suffering of our own government, under the last six administrations, Mexico at last brought on the war, by striking the first blow, and shedding the first blood.

Nor can it be successfully maintained, that the advance of our troops beyond the Nueces, was the real cause of the war, when it is considered that long before that advance, Mexico had distinctly and repeatedly taken the ground, through her Minister at Washington, her government at home, and her Generals in the field, that the annexation of Texas was the true cause and origin of the war which has ensued.

Before the advance of our troops, too, it was repeatedly and formally published by different commanders of the Mexican armies, that their object and mission, was to conquer and wrest from our possession, one of the States of this Union—a State which had been made such, with the due solemnities of law, and that too, from territory acquired before the present administration of our government, came into power. 'This war then, it is true, was a war of conquest, but it was so on the part of Mexico. Such certainly is the fact, if any faith is to be placed in the solemn declarations of a nation, made through its authorized functionaries, and followed up by corresponding action. It is demonstrable, then, that the war was brought about by the unjustifiable acts and aggressions of the Mexican government; for it is assumed as a position that is incontrovertible, that whatever differences of opinion may have existed in our own country, as to the mere policy or expediency of the acquisition of Texas, so far as the United States were concerned, yet that Mexico had no reason to complain of that measure. That territory was, at the time, both by right and in fact, as independent of the control of Mexico, as was Mexico herself of the crown of Spain, against which she had also previously rebelled, and it was so recognized by the principal nations of the civilized world. Under these circumstances, to have been deterred from doing an act not improper in itself, clearly justified by the laws of nations, and called for by the unanimous voice of those interested, by the threats of a party who was not entitled to interfere, would have invited further aggression from the same quarter, and lowered the character of our country, in the estimation of all other nations. In the progress of the war thus forced upon us, far from being actuated by a mere spirit of conquest or of rapine, the olive branch has been uniformly borne in advance, and the cruelty and faithlessness of an insidious foe, have been met on the part of our troops generally, with a forbearance, a kindness, and a magnanimity rarely equalled. We have desired only to maintain the national dignity and honor, and to secure such results as would afford some guaranty for a peaceful conduct of an arrogant and faithless race for the future, and a full and just indemnity for the past. Being engaged in the war, humanity itself would seem to require its energetic prosecution, as well for the purpose of saving the effusion of blood by bringing it to a speedy close, as to inspire that and other powers with such a respect for our prowess, as will for a long period, it is hoped, save us from the necessity of again having recourse to arms.

That the indemnity to which we are entitled, should consist of territory, is manifest, in view of the crippled resources and exhausted revenues of Mexico, the instability of her government, the revolutionary character of her people, her fickleness in relation to her past monied engagements, as well as from her immense nominal possessions, which lie conterminous with our western boundaries, which to a great extent, are unreclaimed from the hand of nature, and uninhabited, and which in the hands of the present possessors, are likely to remain so for an indefinite period. And while such an indemnity will, it is believed, best comport with the interests and the ability of Mexico, it is the most desirable for the United States. Our numbers, which increase at a rate to which the history of the world scarcely affords a parallel, and the unequalled enterprise and industry of our people, will soon require additional lands for their accommodation.

The citizens of this State have not only responded to every call that has been made upon them by the general government for aid and assistance, but they have tendered the services of many additional companies, which could not be accepted. The three regiments of volunteers, which were raised during the year 1846, have returned home with honor, after having seen much arduous service. Owing to some misapprehensions or misrepresentations of the facts, much injustice was done to one of those regiments in the accounts which were first published of the brilliant victory of Buena Vista. Since then, however, public opinion has been set right upon that point, and it is now universally acknowledged that no troops upon the field contributed more bravely and effectively in deciding the fate of the day against greatly superior numbers, than the two regiments of volunteers from this State, which had the good fortune to be present. Besides several companies of regulars, chiefly raised in this State during the last two years, two other regiments of volunteers have, in the last summer and autumn, departed for the field of action; the details, as to which are contained in the accompanying report of the Adjutant General. I cannot too strongly recommend to your attention the careful preservation of the rights and privileges of the brave men who are thus absent in the service of their country. In every constitutional measure, having for its object such protection or extension of their political or personal rights, as the circumstances may seem to demand, or to evince the gratitude so justly due them from the State, for their services and sacrifices, I assure you of my thorough co-operation.

The ordinary expenses of the State Government for the fiscal year ending on the 31st of October last were $90,762 67.

The ordinary expenses for the year 1848, are estimated by the Auditor in his report at the present session at $71,900.

The number of polls returned for 1847, (estimating for the counties of Cass, Crawford, Jefferson, Lake, Pulaski and Wells, from which returns have not been received, as being only the same as last year,) are $129,857, being an increase of 2,762, over that of the preceding year.

The value of the entire taxable property returned for 1847, (estimated in like manner for the same counties) is $124,558,060, being an increase of $1,908,506 00, over that of last year.

The amount of revenue paid into the State treasury during the last fiscal year, including some previous arrearages, is $362,347,07, being $68,486,07, more than was paid in during the previous fiscal year.

The assessment for 1847 is, for State purposes, $450,674,77, and for county, township, road and school purposes collectively, $562,-671,20.

Add to these sums the delinquencies of former years, $127,258,47, and the total amount of the duplicates for 1847, is $1,100,604,44.

A slight examination of our present revenue system, will be sufficient to demonstrate its great susceptibility of improvement.— Under its workings, it is quite manifest that a large amount of the invisible wealth of the community, such as corporation and other stocks, cash on hand or at interest, and the more portable and valuable kinds of personal property &c., is not found on the assessment rolls. This description of taxables is generally owned by those who are the best able to pay and their non-assessment leaves the burden of taxation so much the heavier on property which is visible, and especially on lands, which cannot escape notice and scrutiny, and which the true policy of our State requires, should not be visited with disfavor. The assessment sheets of 1847 as compared with those of 1846, show a decrease on personal property, in some counties, of $20,000, in one county of $40,000, in another of $50,000, and in another of $75,000. The Auditor of State has presented some further facts and reflections, in relation to the present mode of assessment at the close of his report made at the present session, to which your attention is invited. Although careful and elaborate legislation is probably necessary to make the system such as it ought to be, yet it is believed that very little labor will be found sufficient to remove its most glaring evils, and the subject is recommended to your early consideration.

By an act of Congress to establish a uniform time of holding elections for electors of President and Vice President in all the States of the Union, approved January 23, 1845, it is provided that the electors shall be appointed in each State on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November of the year, in which they are to be appointed. As the day for holding such elections heretofore in this State, has been on the first Monday in November of each year, and as by the existing State laws, the returns of the same from the several townships are required to be delivered to the proper clerk of the circuit court on the following Wednesday, the postponement of the time of delivery of such returns until the Thursday after the election is respectfully recommended in order that the same time may be afforded for making the returns under the present, as was allowed under the former law.

By the present law too, the Governôr is required to transmit to the electors, certificates of their election, by the hands of the marshals or of special messengers. From motives of economy, it is presumed that the marshals will always be employed in the transmission, unless in cases of emergency. If they are so employed, it is desirable that the Legislature should settle the mooted question, whether they should receive any compensation for that service, in addition to that which the present law gives them for travelling and returning, over nearly or quite the same ground in making their returns to the Secretary of State. And if it should become necessary to employ one or more special messengers for the performance of that service, some provision should also be made by law, settling the amount, and pointing out the mode of their compensation.

By reference to the Auditor's report, it appears that the principal of the late suspended debt of Indiana now amounts (or rather, at the commencement of the operations under its late arrangement, it did amount) to $11,065,000, in the shape of outstanding bonds. On this amount no interest had been paid, (until that arrangement,) since in the year 1841, when the credit of the State was prostrated. The amount of the annual interest on that debt is over half a million of dollars, [$554,770,] payable half yearly. This debt, large in itself, was therefore increasing at a rapid and fearful rate, and in view of that and of our limited resources, many of our best citizens, involved in despair, and anxious to leave their property unincumbered to their children, were sacrificing their homes for far less than their value, and leaving the State. The same causes were preventing men of capital and industry from coming among us, to purchase property, improve the country and add to our wealth. All this, it is evident, had a tendency to increase the gloom and despondency that pervaded our business affairs generally, and to diminish the ability of the people, (the great mass of whom were also involved in debt,) to meet their individual engagements. Add to these considerations the example already set by other indebted States in resuming payment of their obligations, and it is not surprising that a general anxiety should have existed in Indiana, that its character, if possible, should also be vindicated.

The great obstacle that presented itself to so desirable a result, was the great disparity between the amount of the debt, and the ability of the State for its discharge by means of taxation. It was under this conviction, generally, if not universally entertained, that I favored the principle of disposing of the profits of the Wabash and Erie Canal, in satisfaction of so large a portion of the debt, as to leave the balance within the ability of the State to pay from the treasury, as the only practicable means left the State whereby to avoid the evils enumerated, and to wipe off the reproach of repudiation; and I earnestly recommended that the proposition should be respectfully considered, in the hope that it might eventuate in an arrangement honorable to the State and satisfactory to its creditors. The result was, the passage at the same session, of the bill, which received my approval on the 19th of January, 1846, to provide for the funded debt of the State, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville.

Early in the following July, a letter was addressed to my department, on the part of the committee of bondholders, (under whose authority the proposition had been made, which had resulted in the passage of the bill referred to,) enclosing resolutions adopted by the committee, in which an opinion was expressed, favorable to the principle of that bill, namely, "the payment of one-half of the principal and interest by taxation, and the other half by the property and tolls of the canal, from the State line adjoining Ohio, to Evansville; such property to be assigned to three trustees, and the State to be freed from responsibility on that portion of the debt and interest so to be secured."

In my next annual message, that of last session, in communicating the fact that the principle of the arrangement offered by the bill, had received the assent of the committee, occasion was taken to state that within the sphere of my own observation, and so far as my information extended, the expression of the great majority of our own citizens was also decidedly in its favor. It was further stated that the bondholders desired some modifications of the bill by the legislature, which, I was informed, would not conflict with the principle of the bill, and yet were deemed essential for carrying into full effect its fair and obvious intent, and that any such modifications, if they added nothing to the burthens of the people, would, it was believed, be responsive to their will, and it was also trusted, would receive the favorable action of the legislature.

The action on the proposed modifications resulted in the passage of the supplementary bill which received my approval, January 27, 1847. Both of these bills contemplated that on the surrender of any of the State bonds, they should be cancelled, and new certificates issued to the holders in lieu of them, and that only one-half of the interest due on them, (which, is fixed at the uniform rate of five per cent. per annum,) should be paid from the treasury, and the other half exclusively from the profits of the canal. Both of the bills also contemplated that the bondholders who should come into the arrangement should finish the canal to Evansville at their own expense, aided by the proceeds of the lands, &c., which were granted to the State for that purpose, and they were to look to the profits of the canal alone, to repay them the cost of its construction and management.

But while the original bill gave the State the option of afterwards throwing one-half of the principal also, upon the canal for payment, by the supplementary bill, (and consequently, by the law as it now stands,) that object is at once effected, by one half of the surrendered debt, both principal and interest, resting exclusively upon the canal for payment, the State being released from all further responsibility in relation to it. The great and leading principle, therefore, of the first bill, namely, the satisfying of one-half of the surrendered debt from the canal, remains unchanged, nor does the supplementary bill involve the State any further in debt. The main difference between the bills consists in the latter giving to the bondholders, who should finish the canal, a priority in the payment of their claims and expenses of its construction, out of the tolls and profits, over those who would not join in its construction.

The latter class, however, by surrendering their bonds, would still have the interest on one-half of their debt, (equal to two and a-half per cent. on the whole,) satisfied from the treasury, as in the case of the others, and they would also be paid in whole or in part, the interest on the other half, from the profits of the canal, if any remained after paying those entitled to a priority, as before stated. Even if they receive nothing from the canal, therefore, the amount of the interest paid to them, by their acceding to the present arrangement, would be only one-sixth less than they would have received under the rival plan introduced into the Legislature, which proposed to give them but three of the five per cent. which their bonds called for. By the rival plan, too, the canal would not have been finished, as the credit of the State was broken down and she could hardly have been expected to construct it with only the lands granted by Congress for that purpose. This munificent grant, then amounting to about 800,000 acres of land, would, in that case, by the terms of the grant, have reverted to the United States, and thus have been forever lost to Indiana.

By the supplementary bill, all bondholders were allowed to subscribe towards the completion of the canal, until to as late a period as the first of November last, and to surrender their bonds at any time before the first of the following month. It was also provided that unless the subscription towards the canal was made, and bonds to the amount of $4,000,000 principal, surrendered by the times limited in the bill for those purposes respectively, the arrangement should cease and be void. Apprehensions were expressed on the part of some, opposed to the measure, that a comparatively few wealthy persons controlling bonds to that (or a little larger) amount, would get possession of the canal, to the exclusion of the residue of the bondholders, who, on account of their supposed poverty, would be unable to pay their quota towards completing it, and by reason of the priorities already spoken of, be excluded from any share in its profits. The objection was not that the bill of the last session imposed any greater burdens upon the people of the State, than did the bill of the previous session, (for there was no pretext for that,) but that one part of our creditors would be benefited by it more than others, and that a large portion of them being unable to come into the arrangement, their claims would thus be virtually repudiated. The fear indeed was expressed by some, that but one-half of our debt would be brought in, (being $5,545,000 of principal, with the interest,) that amount only being necessary, before the deed of trust for the canal and its appurtenances should be finally executed. The right to priority of payment, however, seems in practice to have produced an effect precisely the reverse of that apprehended by some, namely, the rapid surrender of a heavy amount of bonds, in the hope of benefiting by the priority; while as to the first bill, which did not contain the clause in question, not a bondholder would accept of its provisions.

It is now cause of congratulation with all to find that at our last advices more than $9,000,000 of bonds, exclusive of interest, had already been cancelled under the arrangement. I was also informed at the commencement of the present session, by the trustee residing in New York, that when he left that city, he had information that the surrender to the amount of about half a million more, was shortly expected, and hopes are entertained that the bulk of the remainder will finally come into the measure.

Having been satisfied that the requisite number of bonds had been surrendered to the Agent of State, for exchange and cancellation, and that the proper amount had been paid over towards the construction of the canal, the deed of conveyance, bearing date the 31st day of July last, was duly executed to the trustees, as required by the 9th section of the supplementary bill, and consequently the original bill, as modified by that, is in full force and operation.

Whatever difference of opinion may have existed heretofore, in relation to this measure, it is confidently hoped, that now, as the law of the land, and closely connected as it is with the character and prosperity of the State, and of its citizens, it will receive, as in my judgment, it justly merits, the support of all, and that nothing will be done or omitted, which may be calculated in the least to violate good faith or to impair the efficiency of the arrangement.

The first half yearly interest required by the law, was promptly paid on the 1st day of July last, and although it was found necessary for the Legislature, at their present session to authorize a loan of the amount of the interest due on the first day of January, yet that was not because the present rate of taxation is not sufficient to comply with the new arrangement, (for it is deemed amply sufficient) but because the revenue is not required by the existing law to be paid into the treasury until the fourth Monday of February, and hence it became necessary, to merely anticipate the revenue by the law in question. It is respectfully recommended to your early consideration, to adopt some permanent measure for providing for any such temporary embarrassment in future.

The final arrangement of our public debt cannot fail to exercise a favorable influence upon the property, the morals, and the character of the State, and is the cause of heartfelt congratulation with all. We have suffered much through past improvidence, may we never neglect the lessons it has taught us.

Let no debt be incurred hereafter unless in case of the most imperative necessity, and not then except provision be at the same time made to pay the interest, and for the final extinguishment of the principal. Few will be found hardy enough to advocate another general system of improvements. But the danger lies in commencing one by degrees. If a favor is granted to one section of the State it gives rise to demands from another, and finally there is imminent danger of irresistible combinations of interests for the prosecution of a number of works, neither of which could find favor alone. As a general rule such works are far better left to individual enterprise, under the great law of supply and demand. Already we have a large amount of capital in the country with the prospect of its progressive increase. The inducements for its investment in works of this character, are very great, and the only apprehension that now need be felt is, that sufficient care will not be taken in the chartering of companies for their construction, to protect the rights of the public. If capitalists would not be justified in risking their means in the construction of a particular work or works, the State now just emerging from insolvency, should not be required to do so. The level surface and fertile soil of Indiana, offer great inducements for the construction of Rail Roads with a view to profit, and the most profitable because the most needed, will be first undertaken. When constructed by private or associated means, there is less extravagance, and less danger of the faithlessness of agents, than if they are constructed by the State.

In discussing this topic, I beg once more to recommend the most rigid economy, now rendered, if possible, more desirable than ever.

Our faith is restored, and it must be preserved. Let the resolve of every heart be that it shall be preserved.

Occasions frequently arise for making requisitions upon the Executives of other States and Territories, for fugitives from the justice of this State, and provision is made by the existing law, that all expenses incurred in their recapture, "if the Governor shall allow the same, shall be paid out of the moneys appropriated by the General Assembly for such purposes." As no such appropriation has ever been made, the law has remained a dead letter, and the custom has been to make the required allowance in the specific appropriation bills. By this omission, not only has there been a delay of the payment for the services and expenses of the agent, but in the absence of correct information, the treasury is exposed to the danger of exorbitant claims. A standing appropriation of small amount, would be sufficient for this purpose, and the adoption of a rule requiring a satisfactory verification of all claims for such services and expenses, before the same shall be allowed, will serve the cause alike of justice and economy.

The views and recommendations contained in the accompanying report of the Adjutant General, will doubtless receive at your hands that attention and consideration to which they are entitled. The commendation bestowed upon this officer in my last annual message, in relation to the discharge of his duties during that year, has been fully merited by the zeal, fidelity and promptitude with which he has performed those of the present year, varied and laborious as they have been. The nature, extent and value of these services, can better be ascertained from the report itself, and I suggest the justice and propriety of making him an additional compensation for the same.

It will be seen from the report of the Quarter Master General, also submitted, that that officer has been engaged, since your last session, with characteristic energy and faithfulness, in the collection and repair of the public arms, which had been lost and scattered in various parts of the State, besides attending to their reception, preservation and distribution. The increase in his correspondence, and in the regular duties of his office, also merit, in my judgement, a further compensation.

Occasion has been repeatedly taken in my former messages, to allude to the great amount of our local or special legislation, the danger of injustice by its means to individual interests, its expense to the treasury, and the large portion of time it necessarily occupies to the detriment of that mature and thorough consideration which is due to subjects of a general character. It was also recommended that the necessary powers should by general laws be conferred upon other and more appropriate tribunals, to afford the necessary relief, sought by means of private acts. The subject has been deemed of so grave importance that the constitution of New York, as lately amended, has a provision against this evil engrafted in it.

I was therefore much gratified to find the attempt to obviate it in part, by the passage, at the last session, of the act to authorize the formation of voluntary associations, approved January 27, 1847. It is hoped that no bill will now be introduced into the Legislature for an object, the accomplishment of which can be secured by that act. It is not intended to say that the act is not susceptible of amendment; on the contrary, it is believed it might be made to have a wider scope, with advantage. But that or any other defect can be easily remedied.

It is earnestly recommended that, as far as practicable, the residue of the broad field of private legislation be occupied by a few general laws.

Permit me, also, again to call to your favorable attention, the subject of giving justices of the peace exclusive jurisdiction of divers trivial offences, now punished by indictment in the Circuit courts, at great expense to the county, and operating, by means of costs and loss of time, as a disproportionate punishment to the individual. I also commend to your favorable regard the policy of establishing houses of Refuge, in districts embracing a sufficient number of counties for the purpose, for the punishment and moral discipline of female and juvenile delinquents; where they will be beyond the contagion of confirmed vice and hoary crime.

My reasons in favor of these measures are given to some extent in my last two annual messages, to which you are respectfully referred.

The steady and successful progress made on the part of our Benevolent Institutions, as will more fully appear from the annual reports in relation to them, is a subject of just congratulation.

The Asylum for the education of the Deaf and Dumb was commenced as a State Institution so late as the 1st of October, 1844, (although it had existed as a private school, with a few pupils, for about one year previously,) and it already numbers eighty pupils. This is understood to be a much larger number than is found in the institution of any other State, in proportion to population, although several of them have been established for more than a quarter of a century.

The Institute for the education of the Blind commenced its operations only on the first of October last, with nine pupils, which are now increased to twenty five, and several others are soon expected.

The erection of suitable buildings for each of these institutions, on the eligible sites already purchased for that purpose, is much needed. The financial condition of the State requires that while they should be comfortable, commodious and permanent, and so constructed as to be susceptible of such additions as may be required hereafter by an increase of pupils, without marring the general design and appearance, yet they should be in a style of simple elegance, without expense or a useless display of mere ornament.

It is gratifying to learn that the Hospital for the Insane will probably be so far constructed by the 1st of July next as to be ready for the reception of a few patients, at that time, and that the work will rapidly advance to entire completion. I cannot doubt that each of these institutions will continue to receive at your hands that aid and patronage to which they are so well entitled.

The people of Indiana deserve great credit, and they will doubtless receive the prayers and tearful thanks of many of these unfortunates, for the cheerfulness with which they have paid a specific tax, in a time of great adversity, for the establishment and support of these benevolent institutions; and it is hoped it will not be forgotten by those concerned, that the best return that can be made in behalf of the inmates for this kindness, will be strict economy and fidelity in the expenses and management of the establishments.

The facts and suggestions contained in the accompanying report of the Visitor of the State Prison will commend themselves to your consideration. Since its preparation, it has been gratifying to learn that the convicts have been removed to the New Prison, which will operate much to the advantage of their health and comfort.

In this connection, and in view of the expected early completion of the Hospital, I beg to call your attention to the importance of providing by law, that whenever a person is acquitted of crime on the ground of insanity, and he is found by the jury yet to be insane, or whenever a convict becomes insane while in the State Prison, he shall forthwith be placed in the Hospital. The former should not be suffered to go at large at the peril of life and property in the community; the latter is not a proper subject of punishment, and both require that moral discipline and medical treatment which would be found in the Hospital, and which recent experiments have proved so frequently effective for the restoration of reason.

It is upon the intelligence and virtue of its citizens, the State must chiefly depend for their social elevation and happiness, for their just and equal participation in the advantages of an enlightened freedom, for the prosperity of our unrivalled institutions in their original purity and republican simplicity, and for that progressive reformation of abuses, and political amelioration, which are the result of independent thought and free inquiry. I am therefore much gratified to perceive the increased interest which has latterly been manifested by the people of this State, in relation to the important subject of education.

Our higher institutions for the instruction of youth in literature and science, are a source of just pride and of great usefulness to the State, and it is gratifying to believe that they have never been in a more flourishing condition than at present.

In relation to the far more important subject of common school education, it is much to be regretted that, at present, when the faith and credit of the State are in process of resuscitation, and its available means are urgently required to meet the engagements entered into with its creditors, as well as those occasioned by our benevolent institutions, we are unable by legislation, to afford such immediate and substantial aid, as in a more flourishing condition of the finances of the State would be more in accordance with our desires and with a sound and enlightened policy. Much however may be done it is hoped, towards the adoption of a system, to be more fully matured in future, which will increase the usefulness, the efficiency, and the amount of the present school funds, secure their faithful application, extend the benefits to be derived from them more equally and satisfactorily—and especially which will ensure a greater degree of uniformity and promptitude in the collection of school returns and other statistics bearing upon the question; which is almost a prerequisite to any prudent and useful legislation, upon a subject which has caused so great a diversity of judgment.

Pursuant to resolutions passed by both branches of the General Assembly at its last session, recommending the friends of common school education to meet in convention at Indianapolis on the 26th of May last, such a convention did assemble and three gentlemen were appointed to draft a bill for the purpose of remedying the defects complained of in the school laws now in force. These gentlemen have fulfilled the object of their appointment by preparing "a bill to provide for the improvement of common schools." From the source whence it originated, and the care and labor which have doubtless been bestowed upon it, it will no doubt receive a mature and attentive consideration at your hands. As by a provision of the bill, it will not go into operation until approved by a majority of the people, it will be proper in case of its passage, to publish and circulate it extensively, in order that every voter may have an opportunity of fully understanding its provisions before he is required to pass upon it, at the ballot box, on the second Monday of March next.

I am aware that I have touched upon several topics in my views as to which I shall not be so fortunate as to have the concurrence of a portion my fellow citizens;—topics too, which some may regard as of a national concernment only, and therefore as inappropriate. But it will, it is trusted be sufficient to say, that as the prevailing usage in this regard must have created a general expectation that some expression on my part would be made on the present occasion, in relation to these questions, silence would have given rise to misconstruction. Feeling it to be my duty to meet frankly every such expectation, believing these questions to be of wide and momentous bearing, and regarding the present crisis in our affairs as imminent. I have freely advanced such views and indicated such a course of policy, as are, in my judgment, most conducive to the prosperity of the people, and to the honor and character of the country. In doing so, however, it has been my wish to subserve the cause of truth, without wounding the feelings of any. The greatest advances in the onward tide of human improvement have taken place under free governments, and have mainly resulted from freedom of thought and of speech. Mere difference of opinion therefore, so far as it excites candid discussion, is promotive of the discovery of truth, and is far from being a subject of regret. But when the too usual, but by no means necessary attendants upon party divisions, passion and prejudices are found so far to prevail, as to estrange hearts that beat in unison upon other great questions of human concernment, to sever the ties and deaden the charities of social intercourse, and to blunt the perception of truth itself, it exhibits a mournful picture of human weakness, and is cause of deep sorrow to the citizen and to the patriot.

However we may differ in relation to such questions, let us not forget that there are many others appertaining to us as a State, and important to the prosperity and happiness of our fellow citizens, as to which it is hoped we can cordially agree and co-operate. To this end, it becomes us to implore the aid of infinite wisdom, without whose favor all our attempts will be vain, that He will be pleased to smile upon our councils and to bless our efforts for the common welfare.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

Without amendment.

Mr. Harvey moved to postpone the special order of the day on the Governor's message, from 2 o'clock on this day, until next Wednesday at 2 o'clock P. M.

Which motion prevailed.

On leave granted therefor,

Mr. Sullivan made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on canals and internal improvements to which was referred a resolution in relation to a canal around the falls of the Ohio river on the Indiana side, have had that subject under consideration, and have unanimously instructed me to report the following bill and to recommend its passage:

No. 146. A bill to incorporate the Indiana canal company.

Was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Miller made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred the resolution instructing said committee to inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill reviving and amending the road laws, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to report that they think it would be inexpedient for said committee to undertake the arduous task of revising the present road laws. It is well known that many of the counties of this state have special road laws, and the committee is aware that no road law could be drafted so as to meet the approbation of the people in different sections of the State. The committee therefore beg leave to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Miller made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred house bill No. 12 authorizing the supervisors of Scott county to make their returns to the county commissioners on the first Monday of March annually, have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report the same back to the House and recommend its passage.

The House met.

Mr. Meredith, on leave, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee on ways and means be directed to report a bill to this house, fixing the mileage of members of the Legislature, by computing the distance from the county seat of each county to the capital by the most usual route travelled by land.

Mr. Harvey moved to strike out all of said resolution from the resolving clause and insert the following:

That a committee of one from each judicial circuit be appointed to ascertain the number of miles each member of this house must necessarily travel in going to and from their respective places of residence to Indianapolis, by the most usually travelled route, and report the same to this House as soon as practicable.

Which amendment was not adopted.

On motion by Mr. Dunham,

Said resolution was amended by inserting as follows:

"And provide by said bill that in case a member resides beyond the county seat of his county, the said distance from said county seat to his place of residence shall be added to his mileage, and if he resides nearer the capital than his county seat, the distance from said county seat to his residence shall be deducted from his mileage."

On motion by Mr. Stanton,

"Committee on ways and means" was struck out from said resolution, and "select committee to whom a former resolution on the subject of mileage was referred" was inserted in lieu thereof.

Mr. Wolf moved to amend said resolution so as to require said committee to inquire into the expediency of reporting such a bill as contemplated in the resolution;

Which amendment was not adopted.

The question then being on the adoption of said resolution as amended by Messrs. Dunham and Stanton;

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Prather, on leave, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Auditor of State be required, when he makes his annual report, to show what amount of mileage was paid each member of the General Assembly.

Which was,

On motion by Mr. Gooding,

Ordered to be made a joint resolution;

And thereupon said joint resolution was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Kinney, on leave, introduced

No. 271. A joint resolution relative to the claims of Col. Francis Vigo, late a citizen of Knox county, Indiana.

Which was read three several times, the rules being suspended, and passed.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Frazer, on leave, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred bill of the House No. 89, incorporating the "Kosciusko, Elkhart, and Miami Railroad Company," have had that matter under consideration, and have directed me to report the same to the House with sundry amendments, and recommend its passage; and the committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The amendments to said bill in said report mentioned, are the following:

Amend the 5th section by inserting after the word "company" in the 7th line, the words "a majority of whom shall be citizens and residents of Indiana."

Amend by adding to section 7th, the following: "and five directors shall constitute a quorum to do business."

Amend the 17th section by adding thereto the following words, "provided that no real estate received as stock, shall be sold for less than the price at which the same was so received by said corporation."

Insert the following sections:

SEC. —. Said corporation shall be invested with the corporate privileges by this act conferred, subject to the conditions and limitations herein contained, for and during the term of seventy-five years from the passage of this act.

SEC. —. Said corporation may, either before or after the completion of said main road, build such branches to and from such points as they may desire.

Mr. Neal moved the following amendments:

Amend in the proper place as follows:

That the stockholders shall be individually liable for all the debts of said company, in proportion to the amount of stock that each one holds in said company;

Which was,

On motion by Mr. Harvey,

Laid on the table.

PETITIONS, ON LEAVE, PRESENTED.

On motion by Mr. Neal,

Leave of absence was granted Mr. Blackstone.

Mr. Hankins made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

A majority of the committee on education, having maturely considered the subject embraced in several petitions from the German citizens of Franklin county, beg leave to submit the following report: That the interests of the German part of our population, as well as those of the entire community, would be seriously injured by the perpetuation of the use of the German language as the ordinary medium of communication among them. Such use would strongly tend to prevent their assimilation in thought, feeling, and habit, in principles and views, to the other portion of our community. But it is plainly to be seen that frequenting schools where the German language is taught, would directly conduce to such perpetuation of a foreign tongue among us, and retard the adoption of our national language and character.

That schools for teaching the German language to their children are not necessary to secure the object which the petitioners profess to have chiefly in view, viz: "To give such school instruction to their children as will enable them when they grow up to perform their civic and religious duties." This is certainly an unexceptionable object to aim at, and deserves aid in accomplishing it. We cannot perceive how instructing "their children in their mother language" is at all essential to the attainment of such knowledge as will fit them to act their parts in the community whose general language is the English, and whose laws and general affairs are recorded in the same. Nor can we doubt that all the knowledge important to fit them for religious duty can be found in books composed or translated in English. Indeed, however well the German language might serve to convey to them religious knowledge, it cannot, we think, admit of a doubt that the want of familiarity with the English language, which would result from their attendance at schools where the German was the only language taught, would in a great degree prevent their children when grown up from a thorough understanding of their civic duties.

That it would, in our view, be a much more direct and efficient method of securing the whole of their professed object, to send their children to the common public schools where the English is taught. We, therefore, report that, in our opinion, it is inexpedient to legislate on the subject, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the matter ;

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Hull made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the affairs of the State prison to which was referred a resolution of the House instructing them to inquire whether the lessee had not violated his contract with the State by working the prisoners outside the walls of the prison, by inflicting corporeal punishment upon them contrary to law, and by engaging them in mechanical and other employment, coming in direct competition with the laborers and mechanics of Jeffersonville ; and also, the report of the Warden of the State prison in relation to the occupation of the guard-house by the lessee of said prison, made in reply to a resolution of the House, and referred to said committee, have had those matters under consideration, and have instructed me to report the following as the result of their investigations :

1st. We find that the lessee has in several instances worked the convicts outside of the walls of the prison ; but your committee unanimously are of opinion that he was compelled to do so by unavoidable necessity, occasioned by the non-fulfilment of the contract on the part of the State in the completion of the new prison buildings. Since the completion of those buildings, the convicts have all, with but an occasional exception, been worked within the walls and upon the premises owned by the State.

2d. Your committee find that the lessee has, in some three or four instances, inflicted, what may strictly be termed corporeal punishment, upon the convicts ; but in each of the cases alluded to, the infliction of the punishment was either absolutely necessary to be done at the time (the warden being absent,) or was of so trifling a character as to be unworthy of any particular notice.

3d. In relation to the inquiry, as to whether the lessee "has engaged the convicts in mechanical and other employment coming in direct competition with the laborers and mechanics of Jeffersonville," your committee would state, that they do not find that the lessee has employed the convicts in pursuits interfering with the mechanical business of the immediate neighborhood, which is all the law requires of the lessee in this particular.

4th. The report of the warden, referred to this committee, sets forth that the guard house is occupied by the lessee, as a family residence ; this your committee find to be true ; but are of opinion that by the provisions of the act leasing the State prison, the lessee has the right to occupy the building in this manner. It does not appear that any injury arises from the occupation of the guard house by the family of the lessee, while it is a matter of convenience to the guards, on account of their being enabled to board in his family. The inconvenience which the warden has at present to encounter, owing to his being compelled to reside in Jeffersonville, at a distance from the prison, cannot be of long duration, as the buildings for the use of the warden and lessee are rapidly progressing to their completion, and will be ready for their occupation early in the ensuing summer.

In conclusion, your committee, in view of the premises, would state, that there has been no substantial infraction of the law regulating the duties of the lessee; that in the few cases where the strict letter of the law has not been complied with, the same occurred under unavoidable circumstances; in none of which cases had either the public interest, or the internal police of the prison suffered; your committee, therefore beg to be discharged from the further consideration of these subjects.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Smiley made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on claims to whom was referred the petition of Martin Fitzpatrick of Daviess county, asking allowance for labor by him performed on the Vincennes and New Albany McAdamized road in the year 1838, have had that matter under consideration, and with the exception of Mr. Slater, and Mr. Albin, who dissented, have directed me to report that there has not been sufficient evidence in support of said claim to authorize the allowance of the same, and respectfully ask the concurrence of the House in the same.

Which was,

On motion by Mr. Terry,

Laid on the table.

Mr. Smiley made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on claims to whom was referred the petition of Seth M. Leavenworth, administrator of the estate of Eban D. Edson, deceased, asking an allowance for services performed by said decedent as prosecuting attorney of the 4th judicial circuit, have had that matter under consideration and directed me to report against making said allowance, and request the concurrence of the House in the same.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Smiley made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on claims to whom was referred No. 136, a bill for the relief of S. & J. Bottorf, have had that matter under consideration, and have instructed me to report the same back to the House without amendment, and recommend its passage.

Said bill was read a second time and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. Smiley made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on claims to whom was referred the petition of Syria Aldrich of Warren county, asking for relief, have had that matter under consideration, and have instructed me to report against granting the prayer of said petition, in which they respectfully ask the concurrence of the House.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Miller made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred the petition of Hiram Mathews, asking a certain change in the present road law, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it inexpedient to legislate on the matter therein contained, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Miller made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred bill No. 108, providing for certain amendments to the present road law, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it back and recommend its indefinite postponement, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Which was concurred in, and said bill,

No. 108. A bill providing for the survey and record of roads,
Was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Harlan, from the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on enrolled bills have compared the following enrolled with the engrossed bill, and find the same correctly enrolled, to wit:

No. 9. An act granting to the citizens of Rising Sun a city charter.

Whereupon the Speaker signed the same.

Ordered, That the Clerk carry the same to the Senate, for the signature of the President thereof.

Mr. Chambers made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

Said bill was read a second time and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. Brown made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, to whom was referred so much of the Governor's message as relates to houses of refuge, have had the subject under consideration and directed me to make the following report :

The committee approve of the suggestions of the Governor, and believe that houses of refuge could be established so as to be of advantage in suppressing that class of crime and reforming those persons intended to be subjects of such houses.

The committee would suggest that when such houses are provided that they should be built in the several counties in connexion with the asylums for the poor on the poor farms, so that the superintendant of such asylums have the control of these houses, thus removing the subjects of these houses as far as may be from the jails and older offenders in the several counties, that reformation could be more easily effected.

The committee are, however, satisfied that the building and appointments of such houses would require a large expenditure of money, and that the finances of the State are not now in such a situation as to justify the present General Assembly in enacting a law to carry the Governor's recommendation into effect.

The committee therefore report that it is inexpedient at this time to legislate upon this subject, and respectfully ask to be discharged from the further consideration of this subject.

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Meredith, from a select committee, made the following report :

No. 290. A bill incorporating the Harrison, New Trenton, and Brookville Turnpike Company.

Said bill was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Stanton made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee to whom was referred the resolution relative to the reason why the message of the Governor cannot be printed before the adjournment of this Legislature, ask leave to report the language of the State Printer as their report, as follows :

STATE JOURNAL OFFICE,) January 26th, 1848.)

HON. MR. STANTON,

Chairman of Committee of the House :

In answer to the resolution of the House in relation to printing the Governor's Message in the English, French, and German languages, the undersigned respectfully replies :

1st. The law requires that the Governor's Message shall be placed in the Journal of each House and in the Documentary Journal. To save money to the State, it is provided by law that but one composition shall be charged, and, consequently, the same type upon which the extra Messages are printed must go into the above forms. That the message could be put in the proper place, the Journals had to be printed up to the day of its delivery, as otherwise the folios could not be properly arranged.

The message was not delivered until the third week of the session, and, previous to its delivery, many documents (and some of them of great length) were ordered. Printing these documents kept the journals back as a matter of course. The Senate Journal makes about one hundred pages, and the House Journal one hundred and twenty pages up to the delivery of the Message, so that some idea may be formed, even by those who know but little about printing, of the great extent of work necessary to be done before the Message could be printed.

This has all been accomplished, however, and the message, in English, is now at the binder's to be folded, and will be delivered to-day or to-morrow.

We venture the assertion, and are ready to submit it to a committee of practical printers, that such are our facilities for expeditious printing, that a greater amount of work cannot be done in any other establishment in the western country, in the same length of time, than has been done in this office the past six weeks. The press-work of the message alone, (being 136 tokens,) could not be done on any other press in the country in two weeks.

2d. There is not a font of German type in the city, nor is there a compositor, who understands the language, to set it up if we had the type. The message in the German must be printed at Cincinnati, and it cannot be done there previous to the adjournment.

There is no person in the city competent to translate the message into the French. This must be done at Vincennes, where it was done last year, and it cannot be done previous to the adjournment.

Heretofore, when similar orders have been made, even at the commencement of the session, my predecessor, (by reason of the same cause,) has been unable to furnish them until several weeks after the adjournment, and it is not to be presumed that they can now be furnished in one-half the usual time.

My object in giving the information to the House that they could not be printed previous to the adjournment, was that it might make such arrangements as the members saw proper to receive them after the adjournment, as I presumed they would be unwilling to pay the postage if sent through the mails.

Respectfully, &c.,

JOHN D. DEFREES,
State Printer.

Mr. McDonald, of Lake, make the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of certain inhabitants of congressional township number thirty-two north, of range ten west, relative to the sale of their school lands, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report the following bill and recommend its passage, and ask, &c.:

MR SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred bill No. 49, of the House, with instructions so to amend said bill as to make the officer therein named elective by the people, report that they have performed the duty assigned, and herewith present the bill as amended pursuant to said instructions—all which is respectfully submitted :

The amendments, made to said bill No. 49, create the office of Attorney General and prescribe his duties, are the following :

Strike out the first section of the bill and insert the following :

1. That the qualified voters of the State shall elect an Attorney General for the State, on the first Monday in August next, who shall be commissioned by the Governor, and hold his office for the term of three years from the date of his commission, and keep his office at Indianapolis, in Marion county.

2. The clerks of the circuit courts shall certify to the Secretary of State immediately after the votes may be compared in the counties, the number of votes given to each person ; and it shall be the duty of the Governor, within thirty days, to make out a commission to the person who, from the returns, shall have received the highest number of votes.

3. Upon a vacancy happening in said office, from any cause, the Governor shall appoint some suitable person to fill the same until the next annual election, when one shall be elected by the people, as provided in the first section of this act.

Which said amendments were concurred in ;

And said bill was read a third time,

And the question of the passage thereof,

Messrs. Wolf and Orr demanded the ayes and noes.

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Baldwin, Brown, Cole, Frazer, Gooding, Hamilton, Keiser, Kennard, Orton, Williams of Madison—10.

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on elections to whom was referred House bill No. 34, for the purpose of changing the mode of electing county commissioners in Pike county, have had the same under consideration, and directed me to report the same back to the House and recommend the passage of the same, but do not recommend any change that will make the same a general law, and ask the concurrence of the House in the same.

Said bill was read a second time and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. McKinzie made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

WHEREAS, Some members seem disposed to consume the whole time of this House in the discussion of unimportant matters, mostly of party character to the great neglect of the true interests of the people ; and as there is no probability that a prolonged session would be productive of other than a shameful expenditure of the public money, without resulting in the public good ; therefore,

Resolved, That this House will, the Senate concurring, adjourn sine die on Monday the 31st.

Which was,

On motion by Mr. Line,
Laid on the table.

On motion by Mr. Terry,

Resolved, That committee on the judiciary be instructed to instruct to inquire into the expediency of providing by law, that it shall be the duty of administrators and executors, in case the heir at law or devisees of their decedents, shall be within age and have no guardian to take in charge all the real estate and lands of such decedents, and receive the issues thereof, and exercise all the rights of guardian in relation thereto : Provided, That such issues shall not go into administrations, but shall be applied to the use of such heirs and devisees entitled thereto.

On motion,

The farther call was suspended.

The question being on the adoption of the amendment proposed by Mr. Hamilton,

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Brown offered the following amendment :

Sec. —. That the several county and township officers are hereby prohibited from employing any attorney other than the prosecuting attorney to perform any of the duties required of said prosecuting attorney, or paying any moneys as fees to such attorneys out of any public moneys except as in this bill provided ;

Which was not adopted.

Mr. Harvey offered the following amendment :

Sec. —. That if any of said prosecuting attorneys shall leave the State with the intention not to return, or when any prosecuting attorney shall have remained out of the State for the space of six months, that his office shall be deemed vacated, and the office shall be filled by election or otherwise as provided by law :

Which was adopted.

Mr. Frazer moved to amend by adding the following section :

"Sec. —. So much of this act as transfers the duties of county agent to the prosecuting attorney, and abolishes the office of county agent, shall not be in force in the county of Kosciusko ;"

Which said amendment was adopted.

On motion by Mr. Ford,

Jackson county was exempted from the provisions of the bill.

On motion by Mr. Meredith,

Wayne county was also exempted from the provisions of said bill.

On motion by Mr. Wolfe,

Sullivan county was also exempted from the provisions of said bill.

Mr. Cookerly moved,

To recommit said bill to the committee on the judiciary with instructions to strike out all the amendments exempting any county from the operations of the bill, and also so much as relates to the county agent.

On this motion Messrs. Harvey and Wolfe demanded the ayes and noes.

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Armstrong, Blythe, Brown, Bryant, Coffin, Cole, Colip, Cookerly, Criswell, Dimmett, Dougherty, Doyle, Dunham, Frazier, Gooding, Graham, Hall, Hamilton, Hankins, Harlan, Harvey, Hetfield, Holden, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Keiser, Kennard, Lane, Little, Major, McConnell, McCormick, McDonald of Adams, McDonald of Lake, McKenzie, Miller, Neal, Norris, Orton, Parker, Richmond, Roache, Rulon, Short, Shryock, Slater, Smiley, Stone, Sullivan, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Tinbrook, Trimble, Widney, and Williams of Madison—58.

Was read a second time, when,

Mr. Jones of Bartholomew, moved to amend the bill, as follows :

Amend the first section of said act by striking out the name of "Samuel L. Lafever," and inserting that of "Isaiah Watkins."

Also—by striking out all which follows the words "in Jackson county," on the 12th line of said section, and insert "thence through or near the centre of Ohio township in Bartholomew county, intersecting the Madison and Indianapolis State road at Columbus, in said county of Bartholomew;"

Which said amendments were adopted,

And said bill as amended, was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

No. 189. A joint resolution inviting Major General Zachary Taylor to visit Indiana;

Was read a second time.

Mr. Lane moved to amend said joint resolution by striking out the same and inserting the following as a substitute therefor:

WHEREAS, It is the duty of the Legislature of the State of Indiana, to defend, protect, and sustain the character of our noble sons, that so willingly left their happy homes at the call of their country, and volunteered their services to protect the flag they loved, and defend the honor of the country that gave them birth.

AND WHEREAS, Knowing too that Indiana did more to gain the battle at the pass of Buena Vista than the troops from any one state, we cannot but regret that slander, misrepresentation, and jealousy, have deprived the State of the honor their valor so nobly won; and when we reflect of the solemn truth that Indiana furnished a greater number and more valuable sacrifices upon the altar of our country than any other one State that was represented upon that bloody field; and whilst no praise was too extravagant for the soldiers of other States, no terms were too harsh towards Indiana.

AND WHEREAS, TOO, We regret to find Major General Zachary Taylor among those that have done us, and our brave volunteers injustice, and though ample time has been given, and proof positive, yet has he failed to correct his error; therefore,

Be it unanimously resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That Major General Zachary Taylor, be, and he is hereby called upon to correct and amend his official report of the battle of Buena Vista, as the truth and justice to the brave volunteers from Indiana require at his hand.

Resolved, That his Excellency James Whitcomb, Governor of the State of Indiana, be requested to transmit a copy of the foregoing to General Taylor, as soon as convenient after its passage.

Pending which motion,

Mr. Meredith moved a call of the House,

Which was seconded,

And after some time spent therein,

On motion by Mr. Harlan,

Allen, of Parke county, and Joseph I. Stretcher, of Marion county, (the latter being an undertaker,) were appointed to proceed to the State of Texas, remove the remains, and re-inter them at Rockville, in this State, which was the place designated by the bereaved family for that purpose. As it was understood that Brigadier General Lane, of the Indiana volunteers, had, before the appointment was made been detached to a considerable distance in the interior of Mexico it was deemed impracticable to make any arrangements with him in relation to the removal, in time for the object.

The accompanying paper is the account of the expenses incurred by Messrs. Allen and Stretcher in performing the duties of their mission, as rendered by them ; and also the amount advanced to them from the treasury for that purpose. I recommend a suitable additional allowance be made to them.

On motion by Mr. Meredith,

The communications and resolutions from Virginia and Connecticut mentioned in said message, were referred to a select committee of five: Messrs. Meredith, Orton, Sullivan, Harvey, and May.

The Speaker also laid before the House the following communication from his Excellency the Governor:

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—I herewith transmit, to be laid before the House over which you preside, sundry accounts for expenses incurred in raising and organizing volunteers in this State during the years 1846 and 1847, and respectfully recommend that appropriations be made covering the claims presented. They are as follows, viz.:

|                                                           |   |   |   |         |
|-----------------------------------------------------------|---|---|---|---------|
| One in behalf of the county of Floyd, as certified by the |   |   |   |         |
| Auditor thereof, for                                      | - | - | - | $87 13 |
| One in behalf of Evi Kurtzman for                         | - | - | - | 57 50   |
| One in behalf of Tighlman Clark for                       | - | - | - | 65 50   |
| One in behalf of Thomas Linex for                         | - | - | - | 148 50  |

The three last items are certified by the gentlemen appointed on behalf of the State to discharge the duties of Commissary and Quarter Master at New Albany, in relation to the three regiments raised in 1846, and I have full confidence in his judgment and accuracy.

|                                                                                                                                |   |   |   |         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|---|---|---------|
| Also, a claim in behalf of John Lister for                                                                                     | - | - | - | $20 00 |
| One of Nathan B. Palmer for (balance)                                                                                          | - | - | - | 129 35  |
| One of Indianapolis Branch Bank for balance of loan for volunteers in 1847, which includes interest to the 25th January, 1848, | - | - | - | 341 43  |
| One of Madison Branch for balance of loan for volunteers in 1847, which includes interest to the 25th January, 1848,           | - | - | - | 175 20  |

The appropriation should authorize the payment of interest (when computed) on the last two items.

The claims of John Lister and N. B. Palmer duly appear in the accounts kept by the gentleman who was appointed to perform the duties of commissary at Indianapolis, for the troops raised at (or tarrying in) that place, in the year 1846. The claims for moneys advanced by the Branch Banks have been duly communicated by the proper officers thereof. As there is hope that the amount of these claims, or some part thereof, may be procured from the general government, I retain the originals for presentation for that purpose, and transmit copies. The originals are subject to the inspection of the appropriate committee, (to whom the subject may be referred,) at all times.

JAS. WHITCOMB.

January 27, 1848.

The foregoing claims mentioned in said communication was,

On motion by Mr. Prather,

Referred to the committee on ways and means.

The Speaker also laid before the House the following communication from the Governor:

To the House of Representatives:

GENTLEMEN — Within the first three days of the present session, (viz.: on the 7th of December, 1847,) I returned two several bills to your body, in which they had originated, with separate messages, giving the objections which had induced me to withhold my official approval of the same. These bills were passed by the General Assembly, at its last session, and were entitled, the one — “An act in relation to that portion of the northern division of the Central Canal which lies between Broad Ripple, in Marion county, and Waverly, in Morgan county” — and the other — “An act for the relief of the White Water Valley Canal Company.” Soon after they were returned, they, with the messages which accompanied them, were laid on the table, (it seems,) but by some inadvertency, copies of the messages were not made out and included in the Journal of the House, of the day they were received, nor indeed of any subsequent day ; in consequence of which omission, they have not been printed in the Journal. But this is not the only evil consequence that might result from this omission. The constitution provides that when the Governor holds over a bill until the next session after its passage, "it shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it," "unless it is sent back within three days after the next meeting." Now, unless there is Journal evidence of its having been so sent back with his objections, is it not at least doubtful whether it will not be deemed by the Courts as a law of the land ?

I am strongly impressed with the conviction that such would be the judicial decision upon the subject. The best, and indeed the obvious rule, it is respectfully suggested, is, to enter on the Journal at the time of its reception, any message whatever, from the Executive Department, that lies within the scope of its constitutional powers, and that is respectful in its terms. But in relation to messages from the Governor of the kind now referred to, it is expressly required by the constitution (Art. 4, Sec. 22) that the House "shall enter the objections [that is the message] at large upon their Journals, and proceed," &c., &c. As the best remedy for the omission, it is respectfully asked that a resolution be passed recognizing the return of the bills with the messages to the House of Representatives, on the 7th day of December, 1847, and that the messages as therein referred to, be included in and printed with the Journal of the day of the passage of the resolution; and immediately following the same.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 2d, 1848.

The speaker also laid before the house a petition from sundry citizens of Harrison county, relative to the delinquent tax list, and other matters therein named, which,

On motion by Mr. Prather,

Was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr. Prather, on leave granted, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee of ways and means, to whom was referred bill No. 163, have had the same under consideration and have made the following amendments thereto, and have directed me to report it back to the House for its consideration :

No. 163. A bill to provide for the election of township assessors and township collectors in Jennings county, and for other purposes.

The following are the amendments to said bill, reported by said committee :

Section first.—8th. Strike out 'incumbent' and insert 'county assessor.'

Section fifth.—Strike out all after the word 'and,' in the fourth line, and in insert 'together with the county auditor and county commissioners, shall form a board of equalization to compare and equalize the county assessment, which, when so equalized, shall be ordered on file in the office of the county auditor.'

Section seventh.—After the word 'county,' at the end of the seventh line, insert 'and every first Monday of April thereafter.'

Section eighth.—Add—'shall be governed by the same laws as though he had been elected by the people.'

Eleventh section.—Sixth line after the word 'duplicate' insert 'what has not been previously paid.'

Fifteenth section.—After the word 'many,' at the end of the section, add 'and shall be subject to the same penalties that county treasurers are by law, to which this is an amendment.'

Which were adopted.

The bill was then considered as engrossed, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

On motion by Mr. Wolf,

The following message, which was received from the Governor on the 7th day of December last and laid on the table, was taken up:

To the House of Representatives, of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana :

GENTLEMEN — The accompanying bill, entitled "an act in relation to that portion of the Northern Division of the Central Canal which lies between Broad Ripple, in Marion county, and Waverly, in Morgan county," was passed at the last session of the General Assembly, but not having been presented to me until within "five days" (indeed within less than twenty-four hours) of the final adjournment of that session, and the intermediate time not being sufficient for such a consideration of the bill as some of its provisions seemed clearly to demand, it was held over, as authorized by the constitution, and it is now respectfully returned to the house in which it originated, with the objections which have constrained me to withhold my approval of the same.

Passing by the previous sections of the bill, a few remarks will first be submitted in relation to the 20th section. That section provides that it shall be lawful for the Treasurer of State to loan to the White Water Valley Canal Company the State revenue collected and to be collected for the year 1846, in the counties of Wayne, Rush, Henry, Fayette, and Franklin, for the term of five years, provided said company shall give good and ample security for the full payment of such principal, and six per cent. interest per annum until paid.

By the act approved on the 20th of January, 1842, entitled "an act to incorporate the White Water Valley Canal Company," the State transferred to that company all its rights to the line of the White Water Valley Canal, from the Ohio river to the National Road, all materials procured and privileges obtained therefor, and all expenditures which the State had made thereon; provided the company should complete the canal within five years from the first of March, 1842, to Cambridge city, and that the State should have the privilege of redeeming the canal after the period of fifteen years from its completion, by paying to the company the full amount of their expenditures in its construction.

The company was also empowered to fix and regulate the amount of, and receive all the tolls and charges on the canal, to make their own regulations and by-laws, and if broken, to sue upon them in any competent court for their own use and benefit. It appears further that the State had expended upon the canal before it was transferred to the present company more than one million of dollars, ($1,101,224.22,) as appears by the Auditor's report of the 22d of November, 1842, communicated to the ensuing legislature. In return for all this, the State was not to receive any share of the profits or any thing else for the first fifteen years after the completion of the canal. And after that period, the company, first retaining eight per cent. clear of all expenses on the whole of their stock in the canal, were only to leave to the State the overplus, if any there should happen thereafter to be. When it is further considered that the sum expended upon the canal by the State, before its transfer, was more than double the amount since expended by the company in its completion, it will be admitted that the State has, by the terms and conditions of thus disposing of the canal, shown no lack of liberality towards the company.

But in addition to this, a loan is now sought from the State by the company under the present bill for the term of five years, of an amount of State revenue which (as computed in the Auditor's report of Nov. 3d, 1846) exceeds fifty thousand dollars.

By the 18th section of the company's charter, the president and directors of said company, or any agent by them lawfully authorized, were empowered to negotiate loans, and for the payment thereof on such terms as should be agreed upon, the bonds of the company were to be given, which, when duly issued, were to be a valid lien upon all the stock and effects of said company in the order of their issue; and all the effects of the company, both real and personal, were pledged for the punctual payment of the interest on said bonds and their ultimate redemption.

It thus appears that by the act of transfer, the company was empowered to contract debts which would be prior liens upon all their property. At the time of the passage of the bill under consideration, bonds of the company to the amount of more than $112,000 had been issued, and were outstanding and unpaid; and if the canal and corporate property should be pledged to the State as a security for the loan contemplated to be made under this bill, it would become a question whether such security would be satisfactory, encumbered as it would be by so large a debt which must first be paid. It appears to me, indeed, to be an objectionable feature of the present bill that it does not prescribe in a more definite manner, the kind of security that should be given.

Since the adjournment of the legislature, by certain proceedings in chancery, instituted by one Henry Vallette, as the complainant in the circuit court of the United States for Ohio, against said company, it appears that bonds (of those above mentioned) to the amount of $112,000, dated January 1st, 1845, were decided to be liens preferable to any which the company could subsequently give.

An injunction was granted by the judge of that court at his chambers in Cincinnati, on the 26th of September last, prohibiting the company from doing certain acts prejudicial to the claim of the complainant, and requiring them to make report of their receipts and expenditures to said court, from time to time, until the whole of the demand shall be discharged.

Since that time it is understood that the works of the company have been again injured by a flood, and while the losses thus occasioned are much to be regretted, a due regard for the paramount interests of the State, requires that those losses should be considered as seriously diminishing the means of the company, and as impairing the security which the canal itself might otherwise have afforded for the repayment of the loan.

But another and still more serious objection to this section of the bill arises from the fact that at the last two sessions of the legislature, acts were passed providing for the final satisfaction of the State debt, upon terms, too, requiring no increase of taxes for that purpose, and for that very reason making all the available means in the treasury necessary to carry the arrangement into effect. These means would have been amply sufficient to meet the first instalment of interest, payable under this arrangement, in July last, had it not been for several extraordinary appropriations made at the last session of the legislature.

Owing to this circumstance, the Agent of State was compelled to supply temporarily, a small balance to enable him to meet the interest under positive requirements of law. Had the contemplated loan then been made to the White Water Valley Canal Company, as there was already a deficiency, it is clear that it would have been necessary for the State to have immediately turned round and borrowed the precise amount elsewhere, to make up the deficiency occasioned by such loan. But would not such a loan, at that particular time, have been calculated to shake the confidence of the State's creditors, in the faith of our late legislation? and would not its tendency have been to prevent the surrender of any bonds after the 1st of July last, and of thereby throwing the one half of them upon the Wabash and Erie Canal for satisfaction?

Enough bonds had been surrendered under that arrangement, by the day last named, to cause it to go into operation as the law of the land, and that being the case, even those originally opposed to the arrangement itself, would be rejoiced to see as much of our State debt surrendered and satisfied under it as possible. Indeed, it would seem that the leading objection to the arrangement was, that but few bondholders, comparatively, would surrender under its provisions, and thus, controlling the canal, leave the large body of our creditors unprovided for. While it is gratifying to find that these fears are now shown to have been without substantial foundation, yet, it is apprehended, if the State, by making the loan sought by the present bill, had been compelled to go into the market as a borrower, to get the money wherewith to meet the first interest due on the surrendered bonds, it would have materially checked, if not entirely prevented, the surrender of any more.

The success of the plan which had been adopted for the arrangement of the State debt, depended upon the surrender, by the voluntary choice of the holders of the bonds which were outstanding; and there was strong reason to apprehend that a measure of this kind would have created a distrust in the minds of the bondholders of the faithful application of the State revenue to the payment of the interest under the new arrangement, and thus have induced them, to a great extent, to withhold their co-operation. Both sound policy and good faith therefore required that the means of the State should be carefully husbanded to meet the new engagements she had made, especially at a time when she was struggling earnestly to relieve herself from the financial embarrassments under which she had been so long and (in the estimation of many) hopelessly depressed. At such a time, it appears to me that too much caution cannot be observed in the adoption of any measure having a tendency to divert the resources of the State, and thus to prevent the accomplishment of this most desirable object.

The citizens of the State at large have cheerfully submitted to a State tax rated as high as they could well bear for the avowed purpose of paying the interest upon the public debt, and thus relieving themselves and the commonwealth from the stigma of insolvency or repudiation. If the loan now asked from the State should be granted, it necessarily follows that the tax payers of the State at large, including those of the White Water Valley, must be assessed as much more as will make up the deficiency. Are we sure that we have their consent to this? And it is not probable that this would long be the only deficiency of the kind to be thus supplied. If we have derived any one truth from the lessons of experience of the last thirteen years in this State, it is, that the grant of the favor now sought would stimulate and encourage similar applications from other quarters. It would be plausibly urged that each part of the State is as much entitled to be favored as the others; and it is quite doubtful if the precedent would not lead to a vicious and dangerous system of legislative expenditures, by exciting combinations of sectional interests for the purpose of aiding each other in procuring contributions from the treasury. Similar influences and a similar policy once brought our young State to the brink of ruin, from which we are but just extricated; and it is hoped we may avoid the seductive whirlpool of debt and insolvency hereafter. It is true, it may be said that this is only a loan, but experience has proven that public money invested in whatever manner in a private enterprize, is but too frequently surrendered or otherwise ultimately lost.

But there is another view of this question, which, in my judgment, is equally conclusive against it. There is, at this time, beyond doubt, a larger amount of capital in the United States in the hands of enterprising individuals than at any former period of our history. The security intended to be given by the company for the proposed loan, whether by a pledge of the profits of the canal, or otherwise, is either good, or it is bad. If it be a bad security, the money of the people ought not to be lent upon it; and if it be good, there will be no difficulty in procuring the loan from capitalists. And it is gratifying to reflect that the failure of the bill now under consideration to become a law at the last session, did not prevent the completion of the repairs on the canal, for which the loan was sought. The same consideration, it is hoped, will enable the company to effect the repairs required by a more recent injury.

The remaining sections of the bill are mainly occupied in relation to that part of the northern division of the Central Canal which is indicated by its title.

The eighth section appropriates all money due from lessees of water power thereon, and the further sum of fifteen thousand dollars from the treasury, for repairs. As an expenditure equal to making these repairs was already authorized by the act of the General Assembly, approved January 13, 1846, if, in the opinion of the Secretary, Treasurer, and Auditor, it was deemed indispensable to repair any unusual breach therein, it did not become necessary for me to decide as to the propriety of the appropriation by the present bill. The expenditure would have been made it is presumed whether the present bill had been approved or not. I will merely remark, however, that the statement of the Auditor, in his annual report of this session, "that the State officers, after mature deliberation, and with the sanction of the Governor, determined that they could not discharge their duties without authorizing the agent to proceed to let out the work, (for repairs,) and bring it into use as soon as possible," could hardly have been intended to mean more than my legal opinion as an individual as to the meaning of the act of January 13, 1846, for it is clear I had no official sanction to give by the terms of the law to make it operative, and still less could my sanction be claimed for the mode that was adopted for making the repairs, as I gave my opinion in favor of dividing the work into smaller jobs as being calculated to finish the repairs sooner and cheaper than by the system of large contracts. I also advised a somewhat longer notice, so as to invite a larger competition. My advice was adopted, I am informed, so far only as to extend the time three days longer for commencing operations. Having no legal control in the matter my opinion was only advisory, and as I professed no practical skill in the subject, it was given with deference. The matter is now referred to (after what has been said) only for the purpose of placing myself right in the premises, and not for the purpose of censuring others.

Before dismissing this subject, I would respectfully recommend that in appointing commissioners to hear and settle all matters in controversy between the State and the lessees of water power on the Central Canal, as provided in the first part of the bill, provision be also made that the assent of the lessees severally to the arrangement be ascertained, that the commissioners, or others, be authorized to make new contracts with the lessees, by which the latter shall be empowered and required to take charge of and keep the canal in repair at their own expense until needed by the State for purposes of navigation, in consideration that the present amount of their rent shall undergo a reasonable and corresponding reduction. I believe such a change might be made as would be far more advantageous to all parties concerned, than the present plan. It is respectfully suggested too that provision be made that no settlement reported by the commissioners, nor any new or modified contract made by them, be regarded as valid until confirmed by the Legislature, or some other tribunal. This seems to be required no less by the interest of the parties, than as an act of justice to the feelings and motives of the commissioners themselves.

In conclusion, the regret I have felt in differing in opinion on the important questions involved in this bill, has been greatly lessened by the reflection, that the canal repairs therein contemplated have already been effected, and, it is trusted, as well and as early as though the bill had been approved; and in the further reflection that it is yet competent for a bare majority of the members elected in each House to pass it notwithstanding my dissent.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

December 7th, 1847.

The question was then put,

"Shall the bill become the law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Commons, Criswell, Gooding, Gordon, Hankins, Huddleston, Meredith, Neff, Orr, Prather, Sackett, and Stone—12.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Albin, Armstrong, Blythe, Bowling, Bryant, Campbell, Carr, Chambers, Covington, Danner, Davis, Dimmiett, Dobson, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Goodman, Graham, Hall,

Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Hetfield, Holden, Hull, Hunt, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Kinney, Lane, Lichteberger, Line, Lockwood, Lowe, Major, May, McConnell, McCormick, McDonald of Adams, McKinzie, Mills, Morrison, Neal, Nimmons, Norris, Parker, Richmond, Roache, Robinson, Rulon, Short, Shryock, Slater, Smiley, Sullivan, Swihart, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Trimble, Widney, Williams of K., Winstandley, Wolfe, and Mr. Speaker—69.

So said bill does not become the law.

The following message, which had been received and laid on the table on the same day with the foregoing, was also taken up :

To the House of Representatives of Indiana.

GENTLEMEN :—The accompanying bill entitled “an act for the relief of the White Water Valley Canal Company,” was passed at the last session of the General Assembly, but not having been presented to me for approval, until within the last three days before the final adjournment, the same is now returned, as permitted by the constitution, to the House in which it originated, with the objections which have constrained me to withhold my approval of the same.

Briefly stated, the bill extends the time in which the company are required by their charter to complete the construction of the canal for the space of one year from March 1st 1847, it authorizes the creation of an additional amount of capital stock for construction, equal to the cost of again placing the canal in navigable order ; it authorizes the commissioners of any county in the State, to subscribe for and take on behalf of their county, any amount of stock they may think advisable, to aid the company in constructing the canal, and placing it in navigable condition ; to issue “county orders,” in sums not less than two, nor more than ten dollars, to an amount equal to their said subscription ; to deliver the orders on demand to the company, and to levy a tax on the taxable property of their county, for the two succeeding years sufficient for the redemption of one half the amount of the county orders in each year. It is further provided, that immediately upon subscribing stock, the commissioners shall publish the fact, and call upon the legal voters of the county to meet at the Court House within thirty days thereafter and there, under the direction of the commissioners, to ratify or reject their said action, by voting at a poll to be opened, a majority of the whole number voting, to determine the question. It was already provided by the charter of the company, that the capital stock of $500,000 might be increased to double that amount to finish it, or to make hydraulic works, but that the company should be bound to keep the canal in repair. The first section of the bill however, as already stated, provides that the cost of repairs required by the damage occasioned by the heavy rains last winter, may be regarded as "additional capital stock for construction."

The effect upon the public interest by this provision, would be that as the State is by the company's charter, to receive after a certain period, all the profits of the canal over eight per cent. on the capital stock, clear of expenses, the proposed increase of that stock (by the expense of repairs which the company is already bound to perform) if it does not destroy, will certainly lessen the chance of any dividend for the State.

The plan proposed, of taking stock in public works by counties, payment being made therefor in county orders, it seems to me, is worth of serious examination, and suggests sundry grave questions. As these orders are only payable in future, (by the present bill, in one and two years,) has not experience abundantly proven that they must inevitably depreciate? Will not this depreciation to a great extent fall upon those the least able to bear it? Will it not in this way become an indirect tax of an oppressive character? While credit is conceded at times to be useful, yet is not the mode proposed, one of the worst forms of credit, that of a depreciated currency? As such a currency must fail of effecting a given extent of repairs, or other work somewhat in proportion to its depreciation, and yet as it must be afterwards redeemed at par by county taxation, is not its employment bad economy?

As the worst currency in a community invariably excludes the best from circulation, to the extent of its amount, is there not danger, if this system of issuing county orders to a large amount, and for objects beyond the legitimate expenses of the county, should generally prevail, that we shall again be plunged into the embarrassments of a depreciated scrip currency, to an extent beyond our past experience, deceptive in its character, and operating as an onerous tax upon the industry of the State?

If a majority of the voters of a county are in favor of the county's taking stock in a public work, had they not better prove their willingness by taking stock individually, rather than compel their neighbors to do so, who may not feel able to pay, or who may be opposed to the scheme? Granting for the present, that they may be vested with the legal power, yet has the majority of the voters of a county the moral right, to force their unwilling neighbors into a speculation or moneyed investment, which does not come within the scope, or the objects of their county organization, or as it may be termed, of their social and political partnership?

Had not the construction of public works, (other than the improvement of navigable waters,) better be left in general to private capital and enterprise, under the great law of supply and demand? Have we not now more solid capital in the country than ever before? Has not experience shown that private funds will be far more faithfully and economically expended and applied, than public funds in such enterprises? Will not the system of counties' taking stock in such works, involve the great danger of the State being ultimately shingled over in its length and breadth with another mous debt? Is not the estimated property of a county a fallacious criterion as to its ability to take stock? Will it not rather depend on the amount of money there may happen to be in the pockets of its citizens at the time they are periodically called upon to pay their taxes?

If the people of Indiana have deliberately resolved upon any one measure, is it not that the State shall never again embark in any scheme or system that tends to extensive indebtedness? Is it not the part of prudence to guard against evils of this character, if evils they are found to be, at the commencement?

I have neither the time nor is it necessary now to discuss, or pronounce definitively upon all these questions. I respectfully present them for the consideration of the legislature, in case the subject should be further entertained.

Independently of them, it seems to me, that a radical imperfection exists in the bill. Should it be deemed expedient to leave the grave questions to the voters of a county, whether it shall take stock in a public work and to what amount, it seems to me that the most ample opportunity should be afforded to all the citizen electors, whose interests are so deeply involved in the matter, to appear at the ballot box.

The fifth section of the present bill however, authorizes and requires the voters to appear at but one precinct in the county, (the Court House,) instead of allowing them as in other elections, to vote in their respective neighborhoods. It also authorizes the commissioners to open the poll "within thirty days," after they subscribe the stock. It is true this may be a twenty-nine days notice, and it is just as true that a notice of but one day would be a compliance with the terms of the bill.

But a small part of the citizens of any one of our middle sized counties, could vote at but one precinct in the course of the day. If the polls should be kept open from day to day long enough for all to vote, many would be kept waiting for an opportunity at a great loss of time, and many others it is feared, would be prevented from appearing at the polls at all, from the same consideration. If but a short notice of the election should be given, but few it is feared, would have knowledge of it, and if full notice should be afforded and a full attendance procured, many would be in danger of losing their votes by being restricted to but one precinct. When it is considered that it has been found necessary to authorize two precincts for elections in many of our towns, the propriety of having more than one for a county at large, is manifest. In view of the latter consideration, and independently of the questions above suggested, it is hoped that no apology is needed for again referring the whole subject to the wisdom of the legislature.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

And after some time spent thereon, the committee arose, and the chairman reported, that according to order they had had the same under consideration, and adopted sundry amendments in which they ask the concurrence of the House; and the committee ask leave to be discharged from the further consideration thereof:

Which request was granted by the House and the committee discharged.

The following are the amendments made by the committee of the whole House to bill No. 56 :

Amend section 2d in the 6th line, after the word "county" insert the words "township."

Amend section 6, in the 6th line strike out the words "loan and the interest thereof."

Section 7. Strike out the 7th section and insert the following :

"The moneys set apart from the receipts for license, and the interest arising from the surplus revenue, shall be denominated the "county common school fund," and shall be distributed according to the number of scholars within the county to which it belongs."

Strike out section 11, and insert as follows :

When any congressional township or school corporation shall have decided in favor of such tax, and shall have certified that fact to the county superintendent, said superintendent shall immediately certify the same to the county auditor, who shall make a record thereof with a list of the taxable property within the bounds of said township or school corporation, in a book kept for that purpose, and shall add the amount of said taxes to his duplicate in an opposite column, and the same shall be collected by the county treasurers as other revenues are collected.

Insert the following amendment at the end of the 5th line in the 13th section :

Provided, That the school authorities in each corporation, with the superintendent, may furnish the State superintendent with a list of books, maps, or articles of apparatus they wish to have procured, and said State superintendent where said list is so furnished, shall be governed and controlled thereby in making said purchases.

After the word "of" in line 7, insert "the county treasurer who shall inform and pay."

Sec. 15. Strike out the last three lines of this section.

Amend section 36. In the 16th line strike out the word "twice" and insert the word "once."

Amend section 39. In the 1st and 2d lines strike out the words "one thousand" and insert the words "eight hundred."

Amend section 42. In the 9th line strike out the word "township."

Amend section 43. In the 10th line strike out the word "three" and insert the words "at least two;" and at the end of the 16th line add the following :

Provided, That any district may, at a regular meeting, employ a teacher who is not capable of teaching Grammar and Geography ; and the county superintendent may, when in his judgment the condition of any district requires it, give a certificate under like circumstances.

Amend section 16. Insert in the 8th line, after "clerks," "of the proper townships."

Amend section 24. In the 8th line strike out the word "care" and insert the word "care."

Amend section 26. At the end of the 8th line insert, "And it shall be his duty annually to lay before the district a copy of his report to the county superintendent, with the amount of all money that he has drawn for his district, and the disbursement thereof, and shall receive for his services any sum not exceeding 75 cents per day for the time necessarily spent in the discharge of the duties of the office, except for making his annual report as provided in the 23d section of this act.

In 2d line, after the word "next," insert "after the taking effect of this act."

Amend section 27. After the word "court," in the 10th line, insert "and in the event of a vacancy the boards doing county business shall appoint a suitable person to fill said vacancy, who shall continue in office until the next General Assembly, and shall give bond to the State of Indiana in the penal sum of $100, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duty, to be approved by the board of county commissioners and filed in the office of the county auditor."

Amend section 29. In the second line strike out the word "twice" and insert the word "once." And in the 7th line, after the word "deliver," add "or cause to be delivered."

Amend section 33. In the 2d line, after the word "and," strike out "one half."

Amend section 34. At the end of said section add, "And in the event of the death or resignation, or otherwise, of the State superintendent, the Governor of the State shall appoint a suitable person to fill said vacancy, who shall continue in office until the next general election and until his successor is elected and qualified."

Amend section 15. Add to the end of said section,

Provided, That nothing in this section, or in this act contained, shall be so construed as to authorize the State Board of Education, or any school officer, to introduce into any school any text or other books against the will of a majority of the persons sending scholars to such school.

Section 53. Stricken out.

Amend section 59. Strike out the words "of common schools."

Amend section 60. In the 2d line, after the word "several," insert the word "school," and after the word "commissioner" strike out the words "of common schools."

Amend section 64. In the first line strike out the word "April" and insert the word "August;" and in the 5th and 6th lines, add after the word "write" the words "or print."

Section 67. Strike out all after the word "then," in the 4th line, and insert "this act shall take effect and be in force from and after the issuing of such proclamation."

Section 68. Stricken out.

Mr. Ford moved to lay said bill on the table;

Which motion did not prevail.

The question then recurring on the amendment to strike out the 1st section of said bill, when

Said amendment was withdrawn.

Mr. Brown moved to amend said bill by striking out all after the enacting clause, and inserting a new bill:

No. 346. A bill to change the mode of doing probate business, and for other purposes.

Mr. Kinney moved to amend the amendment as follows:

Strike out the 5th section and insert:—"That the people of each judicial circuit shall elect at their general election a probate judge who shall serve seven years."

Mr. Short moved to lay the amendment, and the amendment to be amended on the table;

Which motion did not prevail.

The question being, "shall the amendment to the amendment be adopted?"

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Frazer moved to amend the amendment by "striking out the 19th section ;"

Which was adopted.

Mr. Cookerly moved to amend the amendment as follows :

Amend at the proper place — "At the next general election after the taking effect of this act ;"

Pending which,

Mr. McDonald, of Switzerland, moved to indefinitely postpone the amendment and the amendments to the amendment.

The question being, "shall the amendment and the amendments to the amendment be indefinitely postponed?"

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. McDonald, of Lake, and Neal,

Those who voted in the affirmative are.

Messrs. So said amendment and amendments thereto were not indefinitely postponed.

On motion by Mr. Kinney,

The further consideration of said amendment and amendments thereto, was postponed until to-morrow at 2 o'clock.

On leave granted,

Mr. Hull read the following letter :

MADISON, INDIANA.

HON. F. HULL :

Dear Sir — Your kind favor of the 1st inst., (by the politeness of Hon. J. G. Marshall) has just come to hand, and I hasten to reply.

Nothing could afford me greater satisfaction than to be an eye witness of the presentation of that old flag to your honorable body, but circumstances will prevent me from coming out to Indianapolis.

lis; therefore, in behalf of the 3d Regiment of Indiana, I consign their old flag to your care, believing that whatever honors may be bestowed upon it by your honorable Assembly, will be gratefully acknowledged by all those who so gallantly defended it upon the heights of Buena Vista.

That tattered old flag is a dear relic to me, for I have stood beneath it while it waved triumphantly over the vanquished enemies of my country,—my life, and the lives of my fellow-soldiers, have been jeopardized to protect it, but I cannot any way better describe my feelings than to repeat the words of my gallant old friend, Mac Eron: * —“Beautiful flag,” said he, “gift of beauty to honor!—torn art thou by the tempest—bleached by the sun and sleet—but dishonored, never! never! Still shall thy remains flutter over us—a beacon of glory to thy defenders—a meteor of dismay and death to their enemies.” It is glory enough for me, friend Hull, to know that I have been the bearer of my country's banner in the ranks of the 3d Indiana at Buena Vista. Wishing that you may pursue whatever course you may think proper in presenting the flag—with feelings of gratitude I subscribe myself your sincere friend,

(Signed,)

W. F. STEWART,

Ensign late 3d Regiment Indiana Volunteers.

Which,

On motion by Mr. Cookerly,

Was ordered to be placed upon the journals.

On leave granted,

Mr. Hull offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House will, on Saturday next, at 2 o'clock P. On motion by Mr. Meredith,

The rules were suspended, and the following message from the Senate was taken up;

MR. SPEAKER:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have passed the following enrolled bill of the Senate, the Governor's objections, which are herewith transmitted, to the contrary notwithstanding, to wit:

No. 120. An act for the relief of Patrick McGinley;

And have directed me to bring the said bill and objections of the Governor to the House, for its consideration.

To the Senate of Indiana:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith return bill, No. 120, entitled "An act for the relief of Patrick McGinley," which originated in your body, with the reasons which have convinced me that it ought not to become a law of the land, and which have constrained me therefore to withhold from it my signature of approval.

My time has been so much occupied with an examination of a multitude of bills, caused by the near approach of your final adjournment, and with my other public duties, that my notice of the bill must necessarily be quite brief.

The bill provides that the claim of Patrick McGinley against the State, for materials furnished for, and work done on the Silver Creek bridge, in Floyd and Clark counties, shall be referred to three arbitrators, appointed by the Governor, two of whom shall be men of legal knowledge—that the award or decision of them, or of a majority of them, shall be in writing, and filed in the clerk's office of the Floyd circuit court; that the same shall be final unless appealed from within thirty days to the supreme court, and that on presenting the final award to the Auditor of State, he shall issue his warrant for the amount which may be allowed to McGinley, on the Treasurer, who shall pay the same "out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated." On reference to a decision of the Floyd circuit court, rendered on this very claim in 1839, it appears that by the terms of the present bill, the arbitrators will have it in their power to award to McGinley twenty thousand dollars against the State. Before authority is parted with for that purpose, it should satisfactorily appear that the claim is presumptively a good one. Every such investigation is attended with expense, and the State should not authorize it unless there is at least a plausible ground of complaint. It is of course impracticable for the Legislature or the Executive to know whether the claim is well or ill founded, and the argument, for thus in effect asking the State to permit a suit to be brought against herself, no doubt is, to remove that uncertainty, by a formal and legal investigation.

But that investigation has already been afforded, and acted upon too some eight years ago. Experience has abundantly shown that too frequently when a State authorizes a suit to be brought against herself, she is the loser. In such controversies the State is weak and the individual is strong. If the State as a litigant gains a suit, it is much stronger evidence that justice requires it, than it would be in the case of an individual. I have not time to enumerate all the reasons for this, but they are known to every member of the bar, of standing and experience.

This claim is ten years old. It is founded on transactions which happened as long ago as 1837. It grew out of the disastrous internal improvement system, so unfortunately authorized by the State in 1835-36. The claimant contracted to build the bridge over Silver Creek, already referred to, in March, 1837.

After proceeding with his work till towards the close of the year, and after having been paid thereon the sum of $21,814 20, his contract was finally declared abandoned by the engineer, as by the terms of the contract itself, the engineer was authorized to do. The complaint is, that the claimant is yet entitled to damages for materials furnished for, and work done on the bridge. The defence is that he has been paid more already than he was entitled to receive according to his contract.

The matter was first referred by the claimant, for redress, to the board of internal improvement. The facts were then fresh in the memory of all concerned, the witnesses had not died or removed to distant parts, and yet even then the board decided against the claim.

Upon the application of the claimant afterwards to the Legislature a joint resolution was passed as early as the session of 1838-9 allowing him to bring suit against the State by bill in chancery, in the Floyd circuit court, for the full amount of his claim. This was passed under a strong and earnest protest against it, on the part of no less than 44 members of the House of Representatives. [House Journal of 1838-9, page 452.]

Having made this reference, it is unnecessary to repeat in this place objections which were then urged, and many of which I think eminently worthy of consideration, but I desire to say that if the objections were then pertinent, they are yet in full force, with the additional ones, on which I will now proceed to remark.

The suit was brought, and on the 6th day of May, 1840, a decree was rendered by that court against the State for $13,500 and costs. From this decree an appeal was taken to the supreme court, where it was finally reversed and set aside "for the want of equity."

Since the bill under consideration was presented to me, I have, from an anxious desire to do justice, looked through the voluminous record, which was before the supreme court, examining all the evidence, sworn and documentary, as well as an elaborate brief on each side of the cause, also on file, the productions of able counsel, and I feel bound to say, that in my judgment, the evidence, as to number and professional skill and experience, and as to its specific and pointed bearing, is in accordance with the decision of the supreme court, and in favor of the State.

But it is not perhaps necessary to decide on the merits of the controversy, and injustice, may sometimes be done to a claimant, for every human tribunal is fallible; still, for every practical purpose the presumption must and ought to be, that the final judgment or decree of a court is right, and that it settles the controversy. It is the interest of the community that litigation shall some time cease. If the present bill should become a law, another investigation be ordered, and another decision be had against McGinley, what will prevent him from again applying to the Legislature for the privilege of suing the State a third time? What reason could then be urged against it, which cannot now be urged? Would any thing satisfy this importunity, this wearying of the State, but final success? What inducement would thus be held out to a large class of similar claims? After the claimant has once had the privilege of suing the State with all the advantages it confers, and has failed to establish his claim in the judgment of the highest judicial tribunal, it does seem to me that this lately bankrupt State, weak as she must be admitted to be in such controversies, should enjoy at least the privilege of other litigant parties, and suffered finally to repose. This view is so manifestly just, that, by way of obviating it, it has been said that one, perhaps two, of the then judges of the court which reversed the decree, have since expressed the opinion that the claimant suffered injustice in their decision.

But aside from its great improbability, I would not, and especially in a communication like the present, even allude to such a rumor, except for the purpose of declaring my entire disbelief of it. At the same time I desire to exculpate the gentlemen who have communicated the rumor to me, from the slightest intentional misrepresentation, of which, I am satisfied that they are incapable. I am too well aware how natural is the transition from original misapprehension to subsequent exaggeration and final injustice.

The whole record, the whole evidence, the whole argument was before that court, and it would, in my judgment, be as unjust to its members as it would be against the soundest policy, to suppose that they did not give the cause its merited examination and full consideration.

But another strong objection to my mind against the claim is, its staleness. It is no argument against this objection to say that the claimant is poor. Whatever obstacle poverty may be to prosecuting a claim in court, it is none whatever to an application to the Legislature. That body cannot justly be charged with illiberality, and especially as to private claims. There has been every encouragement, therefore, to apply to it for relief, and the only natural and safe supposition, under the circumstances, is, the conscious worthlessness of the claim itself.

Several other objections have occurred to my mind touching the restrictions as to the mode of investigation, the unjust principle of allowing eight years' interest on unliquidated damages as permitted by this bill, &c. &c., which I have not time to dwell upon. But I cannot omit saying that I think it a radical defect in the bill, independent of the above objections, that while it may take $20,000 from the treasury, it makes no provision to supply its loss by increasing the tax list correspondingly. The large appropriations at the last session, made it necessary for the State's agent to resort to his collections from the suspended debt to meet the State's interest due in July last, under the late arrangement of the public debt. Is it fair to throw upon a future Legislature the necessity and the odium of increasing the taxes to meet the sluice on the treasury occasioned by the present bill? Let the members of each session be responsible for their own actions. The sound and safe rule, and one which I beg may never be violated in this State, is, never to incur a debt without making provision at the same time for its ultimate payment.

It is painful to raise objections to bills for private relief. Our sympathies naturally flow towards the individual. We are too apt to forget the juster sympathy due to the laboring poor, who, against the principles of eternal right, are burdened by increased taxation every time an unjust claim is allowed. The opposition of individuals is almost sure to follow the rejection of their claims, however unfounded, and there is nothing to stimulate in the performance of a such a duty, but the abstract public welfare. An officer, however, who can hesitate in such a case is unworthy of the confidence reposed in him, and is derelict in common gratitude to those who have honored him with a public trust. I trust I shall never be found wanting to the claims of justice and patriotism, in any such emergency.

As the facts referred to are not recent, and as the members have not had so full an opportunity of examining the former proceedings in the case as I have enjoyed, I hope no apology is necessary for again submitting the question for their re-consideration.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 8th, 1848.

The question being, "shall the bill become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Mr Cookerly moved to make said message, and the message containing the Governor's veto on Senate bill, No. 196, the order of the day, for to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Meredith moved the previous question.

On which motion,

The ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Cookerly and Ford,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dimmett, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Lichteberger, Line, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Mills, Morrison, Neal, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Shryock, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—60.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Campbell, Carr, Cookerly, Dobson, Dunham Ford, Goodman, Hall, Harlan, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Kennard, Kinney, Major, May, McCormick, McDonald of Adams, Norris, Rulon, Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—27.

So the previous question was seconded.

The question being, "shall the main question be now put?"

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Wolfe and Kinney,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dimmett, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull Hunt, Lichteberger, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Mills, Morrison, Neal, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Shryock, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—60.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Campbell, Carr, Cookerly, Dunham, Ford, Goodman, Hall, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Kennard, Kinney, Lane, Line, Major, May, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Norris, Rulon, Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—27.

So it was decided in the affirmative.

The question recurring, "shall the bill become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

The ayes and noes being called,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Campbell, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Cookerly, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Little, Lockwood, Lowe, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Williams of Madison, Windstandley and Mr. Speaker—57.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Carr, Dimmett, Dobson, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Goodman, Hall, Hamilton, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Kinney, Lane, Lichteberger, Line, Major, May, McConnell, Mills, Neal, Norris, Rulon, Short, Shryock, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—33.

So said bill became a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

Mr. Harvey moved to reconsider the the vote on the passage of said bill, and also moved the previous question ;

On the call for the previous question,

The ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Cookerly and Holden,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Madison, Windstandley, and Mr. Speaker—54.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Campbell, Carr, Cookerly, Dimmett, Dobson, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Goodman, Hall, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Kinney, Lane, Lichteberger, Line, Major, May, McConnell, Mills, Neal, Norris, Rulon, Short, Shryock, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—33.

So the previous question was seconded.

The question being, "shall the main question be now put?"

It was decided in the affirmative.

The main question being, "shall the vote be reconsidered?"

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Cookerly and Kinney,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Carr, Cookerly, Dimmett, Dunham, Ford, Goodman, Hall, Hamilton, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Kinney, Lane, Line, Major, May, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Neal, Norris, Rulon, Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—29.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Albin, Armstrong, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Campbell, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Fuller, Gordon, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Liechteberger, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Mills, Morrison, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Shryock, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Williams of Madison, Winstandley and Mr. Speaker—60.

So said vote was not reconsidered.

On motion by Mr. McDonald, of Lake,

The following message from the Senate, by Mr. Test, their secretary, was taken up :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives, that the Senate have passed the following enrolled bill of the Senate, the objections of the Governor to the contrary, notwithstanding, to-wit.:

No. 196. An act for the relief of Jesse Beard and Elias L. Beard ;

And have directed me to bring the same, with the objections of the Governor, to the House for its consideration.

To the Senate :

GENTLEMEN :—The bill which originated in your body, entitled "An act for the relief of Jesse Beard and Elias L. Beard," is herewith returned. My signature to it has been withheld for the following reasons :

The preamble states that one Joseph Rener entered into a contract on the 7th of June, 1839, with the board of Internal Improvement, for the construction of section five of the Wabash and Erie Canal—that Rener, with the assent of the acting commissioner of the canal, transferred the contract to the Messrs. Beards—that by the contract, the State was bound to pay for the work in par funds, and that the Beards undertook it under that expectation—that under the general suspension, their work was stopped—that on the resumption of the work, they, by the advice of William J. Ball, engineer of the canal, prosecuted it under the expectation that the State would comply with the contract—and that the State having no par funds, the Beards received all their pay in canal scrip, which had become depreciated.

The bill then requires that the Governor shall appoint a commissioner to try the claim, who shall appoint a day for the commencement of the trial in Lafayette—that he shall swear witnesses, and examine them touching the matters to be investigated—that the Governor shall appoint a person to act as counsel for the State on the investigation, the amount of whose fee shall be fixed by the decision of the commissioner—that upon the commissioner awarding a sum against the State, and in favor of the claimants, he shall certify to the auditor of State, and the treasurer shall pay it. An appeal is allowed to the circuit court, or to the newly organized court of common pleas of Tippecanoe county.

Stripped of all irrelevant matter, the complaint in brief is, that contractors found the State unable, in consequence of her prostrate credit, to pay them for their work in par funds, as required by their contract—that instead of abandoning it, and giving the State an opportunity of employing other, as they might have done, they went on and finished it, received the State's promissory notes for the amount, (on the principle of an accord and satisfaction,) and passed them away, while the State has since either taken them up at par, or has made ample provision for doing so.

And now the question is, shall the State, besides redeeming her paper at its face, and according to its terms, be required to pay the contractors the loss they sustained by bargaining it away at less than par?

Is an individual debtor required by law to do so? And if not, ought the State, struggling as she now is to pay her debts, to be held to a stricter rule?

Surely not; for the receiving the scrip under protest even if made—a protest made to a State officer, who could not change his course in consequence, but was compelled by law to pay it over, protest or no protest, cannot alter the case. Nor can the advice of Mr. Ball to the contractors, to proceed with their work—nor can his opinion given to them, that the State would pay them in par funds, (if such opinion was ever given,) make the State liable.

Such an opinion at that dark period of the State's misfortunes, could not have been believed; and even if believed, Mr. Ball had no authority thus to bind the State.

But decisive as I regard the above objection to be, the precedent to be established by the passage of this bill, makes a far greater one. The same reason would require the State to make up the difference to every other contractor and State officer who have received scrip for their claims, or services.

Efforts have been made to convince me that there is a distinction between the present claim, and others where a depreciated scrip has been received, but without effect. I can see no difference in principle; and the slight difference in form, would be overcome with a far less stride hereafter, than that taken to pass the present bill. But if the amount of this depreciation is made up in the case of all the other contractors, what will be the result? To answer this question, it is necessary to see the amount of scrip issued.

The amount of $5 and $50 scrip paid to contractors on our public works, when the system was broken down and the credit of the State gone, was $1,500,000. The scrip issued on the canal east of Lafayette, amounts to $421,761 28, and that issued on it west of that place, to $819,980—making in all $2,741,741 28. I am informed from a reliable source, that the first description of scrip was depreciated soon after its issue, to from 53 to 65 cents on the dollar, and the second and third descriptions to about 40 cents on the dollar. This makes a total of depreciation, of about thirteen hundred thousand dollars, which the State, (besides meeting the scrip at par,) would, by carrying out the principles of the present bill, be obliged hereafter to pay out of her exhausted treasury.

But even this is not all. By the same principle, or an easy consequence from it, a heavy and still increasing amount of interest, would also have to be paid on that depreciation.

The principle of the bill does not relieve the laborers on the public works, the farmers, and others who received this scrip from the contractors; it only relieves those who received it from the State—the contractors themselves.

The only way in which the laborer, and the community will be affected by it, (after having suffered their own share of the depreciation,) will be to be taxed to make up the loss sustained by the wealthier contractors—and that, too, when it is believed that in nearly all cases, the contractors paid off this very scrip to the real sufferers at par, and consequently suffered no loss whatever.—Those who really suffered, (or at least who suffered the most,) will be injured, not benefited, by the principles sanctioned by this bill, while the others who paid off their debts with the scrip, and at par, will reap all the advantage. Is this justice?

Again. Why is an investigation necessary? Not to settle the facts. The nature of the contract, the amount of the scrip paid to these claimants, the extent of its depreciation, &c., are well known.—The important facts, whatever they are, are susceptible of office or record proof. Nothing remains to be decided, but the principle referred to, viz.: shall any allowance be made by the State to contractors for depreciated scrip? On this question, I have frankly expressed my opinion; and if the Legislature should dissent from it, it is far better, in my judgment, that they calculate the difference, and to make the allowance at once from the Treasury, than to incur the heavy expense of a protracted investigation, the costs of a long trial, for the purpose of ascertaining facts already well known.

Another objection to this bill, I have already remarked upon in another communication. So many bills have already passed, or are yet before the Legislature, contemplating a heavy disbursement from the Treasury for individual claimants, that there is great danger of its disabling the authorities of the State, from meeting other indispensable engagements, and especially from paying the interest on the State debt. Before these bills should be suffered to pass, or before an expense of any kind of the same amount should be authorized, the taxes should be correspondingly increased. They must be increased hereafter, if these expenses are incurred, and better now if ever. This policy would answer the double purpose of preventing prodigality, and of preserving our public faith inviolate.

But I am not advised that any such increase is contemplated, nor, indeed that the State officers are to be authorized to borrow any funds to supply such probable deficiency.

In conclusion, I am clearly of the opinion, independently of all that has been said, that (at least in relation to claims like the present) the State should never permit a suit to be brought against herself;—for such the procedure authorized by the present bill virtually is. Such a permission, if not unworthy of a sovereign State, is almost certain to result in a loss to the public. In such controversies, individual vigilance, and individual knowledge of men, stimulated by one of the strongest passions of the human heart, the love of gain, is almost sure to triumph over justice. The State becomes the party assailed,—but whether the assailed, or the assailant, she is ever the weaker party.

I will merely add that private claims and private interests are represented here at every session of the Legislature, ably, keenly, and untiringly. The people of the State—that is, the great mass of the unsuspecting and confiding people at a distance—have none to protect their rights but those who have been entrusted with the necessary power for that purpose. Every dollar voted from the Treasury adds to their burdens. And it behooves us all to scrutinize every measure that is so fatally calculated to increase our already heavy taxes.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 10th, 1848.

The question being,

H42*

"Shall said bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Mr. McDonald of L., moved the previous question.

On which motion,

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Lane and Jones of Switzerland,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Criswell, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Lichteberger, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald, of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Shryock, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—51.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Campbell, Carr, Commons, Cookerly, Davis, Dimmett, Dunham, Ford, Goodman, Graham, Hall, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Kinney, Lane, Line, Major, May, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Mills, Neal, Norris, Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, and Wolfe—32.

So the previous question was seconded.

The question being,

"Shall the main question be now put?"

It was decided in the affirmative.

The main question then recurring,

"Shall the bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

The ayes and noes being called,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—55.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Carr, Cookerly, Davis, Dimmett, Dunham,

Mr. Lane asked and obtained leave to record his vote in the negative.

So the bill becomes a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

Mr. Little moved to reconsider the vote on the passage of said bill, and also called the previous question.

On seconding the call for the previous question,

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Kinney and Cookerly,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Armstrong, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Dunham, Ford, Frazer, Gordon, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Lane, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Sackett, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, Williams of Madison, Winsteadley, and Mr. Speaker—58.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Carr, Cookerly, Dimmett, Fuller, Goodman, Hall, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Kinney, Lichteberger, Major, May, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Mills, Neal, Norris, Rulon Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, and Wolfe—36.

So the previous question was recorded.

The question then being,

“Shall the main question be now put?”

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Kinney and Holden,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Lane, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Neal, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Wolfe—58.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Carr, Cookerly, Dimmett, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Goodman, Hall, Hetfield, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Kennard, Kinney, Lichteberger, Major, May, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Mills, Norris, Rulon, Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, and Wolfe—27.

So the main question was ordered to be put now,

The main question then being,

“Shall the vote be reconsidered?”

The ayes and noes being demanded by Messrs. Cookerly and Kinney,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Carr, Cookerly, Dimmett, Dunham, Ford, Goodman, Hall, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kinney, Lane, Major, May, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Mills, Neal, Norris, Rulon, Short, Slater, Sullivan, Trimble, and Wolfe—26.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Campbell, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Fuller, Gordon, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harlan, Harvey, Hetfield, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Kennard, Lichteberger, Little, Lockwood, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—59.

So said vote was not reconsidered.

On motion by Mr. Lane,

The rules were suspended, and the following message from the Senate, by Mr. Test, their Secretary, was taken up :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have passed the following engrossed preamble and joint resolution, to-wit :

No. 311. Preamble and joint resolution in relation to the flag of the Second Indiana Regiment ;

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Said joint resolution was read a first and second time, the rules being suspended therefor, when

Mr. Lane offered the following amendment :

Strike out "Friday the 11th inst.," and insert "Saturday the 12th inst."

Which was adopted, and,

Said joint resolution was read a third time, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

On motion by Mr. Hull,

The rules were suspended, and,

February 11th 1848.

On motion by Mr. Dunham,

The following message from the Senate, by Mr. Davis, a Senator was taken :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have passed the following enrolled bill of the Senate, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding ;

No. 27. An act for the benefit of the New Albany and Salem railroad company ;

And have directed me to bring said bill and the objections of the Governor, to the House for its consideration.

The following is the message of the Governor, containing his reasons for withholding his signature from said bill :

To the Senate :

GENTLEMEN :—I herewith return bill No. 27, which originated in your body, entitled "An act for the benefit of the New Albany railroad company," with the objections which have prevented me from giving it my official approval.

The construction of railroads, with the proper restrictions and guards, so as to protect the rights of the great mass of the community, is not only of general advantage, but it marks an era in the affairs of the country. The inducements are too great, for any doubt but that they will be constructed as soon, in reference to general interests, as may be necessary.

I have already given my reasons, to some extent, why the construction of such works should be left exclusively to individual enterprise. I will now merely say, that our only security to avoid another stupendous State debt, which, from the absence of any further means to arrange or satisfy it, must crush us, is to resolutely abstain from engaging the means of the State, presently or remotely, directly or indirectly, to assist any private company or any one work whatsoever. Whenever one instance of that kind takes place it lays the foundation for a like claim in behalf of other companies. Combinations of different sections of the State, or of different companies, would inevitably take place, until, as the final result, the already overburdened State would be hopelessly involved. It was from a similar beginning that the illstarred mammoth system of 1835-6 took its rise, and it behooves us to learn wisdom from experience.

The first section of the present bill releases to the New Albany railroad company all right of redemption of the road on the part of the State. That right was secured to the State at the time she passed over her public works to private companies, by the act of January 28, 1842. By the 64th section of that act it is provided that the State, through her legislature, may redeem any work after twenty years, by refunding to the company completing it, the full amount by them expended upon it, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum, first deducting from such interest the nett amount of revenue received by the company. No one could pretend, at the time, that such provision was not sufficiently liberal. The State had expended upon the original work above $370,000, of which the far greater part—I have not the means at hand of knowing how much, but it is supposed at least $300,000—was expended upon that part of it occupied by the present company's charter. And the only thing left to the State for all this expenditure, was the privilege of redemption at the end of twenty years; and even this is now sought to be taken from her for the benefit of the company. I am aware it is said that it will not be redeemed, that the State gives away but little by this provision. But if the State gives away but little, the company receives but little, and would not be prevented from investing their capital without it. Other charters have been eagerly sought after and granted, for such works, at the present session, where the State has expended no money. The present company will be benefited by the State's expenditure upon this work; ought they to receive a benefit not accorded to other companies, for nothing? If it should be considered bad policy for the State to redeem the work hereafter, she should at least have it in her power to sell the right of redemption to the stockholders.

By this means something may be got by which to help pay off our State debt, of which this same $300,000 is a part. The people are now taxed to pay that very debt, and they are now asked to surrender this last vestige of the expenditure to a company, and for nothing.

But above all, the objection consists in the principle involved, of granting any thing of labor or of money, or of the fruits of it, to aid any company in any work like the present, without reference to the value of the grant. The same objection was made by me to the bill of this session for the relief of the White Water Vally canal company, and I can make no distinction between different parts of the same State in reference to such favors. The principle is pregnant with danger and peril to the best interests of Indiana, and as such I feel bound within my limited sphere to resist it.

The bill is returned at the earliest practicable moment allowed by the pressing duties of the close of the session, in order that the General Assembly may have time to act in the premises according to their sense of duty.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 11, 1848.

Mr. Winstandley moved a call of the House,
Which was seconded.

After some time spent therein,

On motion by Mr. McDonald of Lake,

The further call of the House was dispensed with.

The question being,

"Shall said bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

The ayes and noes being called,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Campbell, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Dunham, Ford, Frazer, Fuller, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Hetfield, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Kinney, Line, Little, Lowe, May, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, Meredith, Miller, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orton, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Roache, Sackett, Short, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Thompson of Gibson, Williams of Knox, Williams of Madison, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—62.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Blackstone, Carr, Dimmett, Goodman, Hall, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Lichteberger, Major, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, McKinzie, Mills, Neal, Norris, Shryocck, Slater, Sullivan, Tinbrook, Trimble, and Wolfe—22.

So said bill becomes a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

The following message from the Governor was also taken up :

To the House of Representatives :

GENTLEMEN :—I return herewith a bill which originated in your body, entitled “An act to vacate an alley in Cambridge City,” with the reasons which have impelled me to withhold from it my signature of approval.

Ample provision is already made by a general law, (article 2, chapter 24, Revised Statutes,) to accomplish the object of this bill on application to the authorities of an incorporated town, or to the board of county commissioners, as to an unincorporated town, or one, the corporate powers of which have fallen into disuse.

By the adoption of that course notice must be given, and there is the less fear of doing injustice to individuals. As an illustration—at the last session an act was passed vacating a certain street and alley in the town of Bloomington, (Local Laws, p. 269,) and at the present session a bill has already been passed repealing it.

I need not repeat the many reasons against special legislation. Its concomitants and results are too well known, it is hoped, not to be deprecated. And as by the fortunate existence of a general law there is no necessity for passing a special act in this instance, no mode of obviating the evil suggests itself but that now adopted.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 11th, 1848.

The question then being,

“Shall the bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?”

And the ayes and noes being called,

Those who voted in the affirmative are.

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Blythe, Bowling, Brown, Bryant, Coble, Coffin, Cole, Commons, Criswell, Davis, De Bruler, Dougherty, Dunham, Fuller, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Hetfield, Huddleston, Hull, Hunt, Kinney, Lane, Lichteberger, Line, Little, May, McCormick, McDonald of Lake, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Mills, Morrison, Nimmons, Orr, Orten, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Sackett, Smiley, Stanton, Stone, Swihart, Thompson of Carroll, Winstandley, and Mr. Speaker—54.

Those who voted in the negative are.

Messrs. Armstrong, Carr, Cookerly, Dimmett, Ford, Goodman, Hall, Harlan, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Major, McConnell, McDonald of Adams, Neal, Norris, Short, Shryock, Slater, Sullivan, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—24.

So said bill became a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

Mr. Cookerly, on leave granted, offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the unanimous thanks of the members of this House are due, and they are hereby tendered to the Hon. William A. Porter, for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over our deliberations ;

Which was adopted.

Mr. Cole, from a select committee, on leave granted, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of a large number of citizens of Miami and Wabash counties, praying for the removal of the canal land office to for the sale of the Wabash and Erie canal lands east of Tippecanoe, from Logansport back to Peru, where it was located by the Revised Statutes of 1843, have had the subject under consideration, and have directed me to report that they have given careful attention to that section of the Revised Statutes of 1843, by which the said land office was located at Peru, as mentioned in said petition, as well as the laws of 1846 and 1847, under which the trustees of said canal claimed the right to remove the same.

It is provided by section 210, chapter 13, of the Revised Statutes of 1843 that "the office for the sale of lands belonging to the Wabash and Erie Canal above the mouth of Tippecanoe river shall be continued at Peru under the charge and direction of the commissioner of said line."

In the fall of 1844, after the taking effect of the Revised Statutes, large quantities of land, the most of which was in the immediate vicinity of this land office, was there offered and sold ; and under this law the purchasers expected to pay their interest and the balances of purchase money at Peru.

Your committee believe that the legal principle is not questioned that every contract is presumed to have been made with reference to the law existing at the time it was entered into, and that so far as the rights of the parties are concerned, it enters into and forms a part of the contract ; and that the place of payment under the law which provided that the land office should "be continued at Peru," was as much a part of the contract as the price at which the land was sold, or the period at which payment was to be made.

If the right exists to remove this land office at all, it may be removed to the most distant part of the State; which would not only impose burdens upon individuals in making payments for lands which were not anticipated at the time the same were purchased, but would be a manifest violation of both the letter and the spirit of the law.

The committee is aware that the right to remove said land office is claimed by the trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal under the 30th section of "An act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville," approved January 19, 1846; and the act supplementary thereto approved January 27, 1847. That section of the law as amended by the said supplementary act, is in the following words:

"Said trustees shall establish at least one land office for the sale of said canal lands at some convenient point in this State, and also an office for the transaction of all business connected with said trust, and said trustees shall also establish two or more land offices at convenient points in this State."

This provision of the law contemplates the establishment of land offices for the sale of lands, but the Legislature seems very wisely to have invested in the trustees no power to remove the land office previously established and thereby interfere with the vested rights of the citizens of the State.

The committee would further state that the section of the Revised Statutes above referred to, has not been repealed by any positive enactment of the Legislature, nor is there any provision in the laws of 1846 or 1847 which is so repugnant that both could not exist in full force, and they therefore conclude that the removal of said land office from Peru was not warranted by law, and have directed me to submit the following joint resolution and to recommend its passage:

No. 487. A joint resolution to remove the Canal Land Office from Logansport to Peru;

Which was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Bryant, from a select committee, on leave granted, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to which was referred the subject of fees and salaries, beg leave to report the accompanying bill, and recommend its passage:

No. 488. A bill regulating the fees and salaries of the several officers and persons therein named;

Which was read a first and second times, the rules being suspended therefor, when

Mr. Shryock moved to strike out the counties of Fulton and Marshall from the provisions of the bill;

Pending which,

On motion by Mr. Kinney,

Said bill and amendment were laid upon the table.

The following message from His Excellency the Governor was received, by Mr. Sleeth, his Private Secretary :

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Blythe, (the rules being suspended therefor), from a select committee, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred the joint resolution of the Senate No. 80, entitled "A joint resolution requesting the Governor the State of Indiana to present a sword to Gen'l. Joseph Lane," have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back with the following amendment, and recommend its passage.

The following are the amendments proposed by said committee :
 "Amend by striking out all after the enacting clause, and insert the following :

"That the Governor of the State of Indiana be requested to procure and present to Brig. Gen. Joseph Lane, Col. James H. Lane, Col. James P. Drake, and Col. Willis A. Gorman, each a sword in testimony of the high regard, entertained by the people of said State, for their distinguished services, and the troops under their respective commands, in the existing war with Mexico, and that the amount of money expended by the Governor in the purchase of said swords, be paid out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated ;"

Which was adopted, and

Said joint resolution was read a second time and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. Holden moved that the following gentlemen, to-wit, Messrs. Lane, Shryock, Frazer, Brown, Wolfe, Holden, and Richmond, be added to the committee on enrolled bills ;

The following message from the Governor, was taken up:

TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

Gentlemen:—The bill entitled "An act, providing for the payment of certain moneys to Justus C. Alvord and Homer King," No. 358, is herewith returned to your body, in which it originated.

It is unnecessary to mention all the objections that have presented themselves to my mind, to its becoming a law; because, upon their being frankly stated to an honorable member of the House, measures were taken which have resulted in the passage of another bill through both branches of the Legislature, as it is understood, which has made an appropriation for paying the same claim to Messrs. Alvord and King. To prevent a double payment thereof, it is necessary to return this bill without my signature.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 12th, 1848.

The question being, "shall the bill in said message mentioned, become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

The ayes and noes being called,

Mr. Orton, on leave granted, offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the Senate be invited to attend instantly in the Hall of this House, for the purpose of receiving the flag of the 2d regiment of Indiana volunteers ;

Which was adopted.

The Senate then came to the Hall, and Mr. Davis, a Senator, presented to the two branches of the Legislature thus convened, on behalf of the company to which the flag originally belonged, the flag which was borne by the second regiment of the Indiana volunteers in the campaign in Mexico, and in the battle of Buena Vista ;

Which was received by the President of the Senate.

Capt. Thomas L. Sullivan then presented to the State of Indiana, through her Representatives thus assembled, on behalf of the third regiment of the Indiana volunteers, the flag which had been borne by said regiment throughout their campaign in Mexico, and in the same battle ;

Which was received by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Senate then retired.

Mr. Hull, on leave, introduced the following joint resolution :

Which was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed unanimously.

Ordered, That the Senate be informed thereof.

A Joint Resolution accepting the colors of the Third Regiment of Indiana Volunteers.

Be it resolved unanimously by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That with feelings of just pride, we receive the colors borne by the third regiment of this State, in the battle of Buena Vista. That we appreciate in the highest degree the distinguished services rendered by that gallant regiment, upon the occasion alluded to ; and while we remember that it won for itself in that blood contest the proud appellation of "the steadfast third," we have no hesitation in declaring that it contributed as much to the success and triumph of our arms, as any other Regiment there engaged. That this flag will be cherished by the people of Indiana, "for upon its once fair and beautiful face, is now depicted the horrors of the strife it witnessed in the service of its country. Its soiled and tattered appearance speaks for itself, and is its best history." That this once glittering banner—"the gift of beauty to honor—torn by the tempest—bleached by the sun and the sleet—tattered by the bullet shot and shell ; but, dishonored, never !" shall be preserved as a priceless memento of the heroic and glorious achievements of our patriotic and noble sons.

Be it further resolved, unanimously, That in behalf of the people of the State of Indiana, we hereby return their heart felt thanks to the Officers and Privates of the Third Regiment of Indiana Volunteers for the inestimable gift they have this day presented to their State ; and that these mutilated, but honored colors, be now deposited in the State Library, there to be carefully preserved, that our children's children may look upon them and say, "Under this ancient banner fought our heroic fathers !"

Be it further resolved, That the State Librarian be, and he is hereby empowered and requested, to procure a plate of silver to be attached to the standard pole of the Third Regiment, with these words engraved upon it, — "Third Regiment Indiana Volunteers : BUENA VISTA, 22d and 23d February, 1847."

Be it further resolved, That the thanks of the people of this State are hereby warmly tendered to Ensign William F. Stewart, who bravely unfurled this banner above the heads of his gallant brothers in arms at Buena Vista, and bore it triumphantly throughout that sanguinary battle-field.

Be it further resolved, That the officers and men of the First, Second, and Third Regiments of this State have, upon every occasion and throughout the time they were in their country's service, been unexcelled in devotional patriotism and heroic action; and while we especially return to them the thanks of the people of this State, we claim for them the gratitude and admiration of their countrymen.

Be it further resolved, That while we return our gratitude to the living we will not forget the honored dead; and that this General Assembly, in common with the people of Indiana, deeply mourn the loss of her brave and patriotic sons who have fallen beneath the flag of their country upon the field of battle, or by the stroke of disease in a foreign and pestilential climate; and that we hereby express our deepest sympathy with their relatives and friends.

Be it further resolved, That these joint resolutions be spread upon the journals of both Houses of this General Assembly.

On motion by Mr. Blythe,

The following joint resolution was taken up :

No. 89. A joint resolution to present a sword to Gen. Joseph Lane and others;

Which was read a third time and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Bryant, on leave, introduced

No. 491. A joint resolution in relation to certain canal funds;

Mr. Dunham offered the following amendment :

Insert after the words "Northport feeder-dam," "any advances made by the State on account of the Wabash and Ohio Canal."

Which was adopted.

And said bill was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Senate be informed thereof.

Mr. Short, on leave, introduced

No. 492. A joint resolution of thanks to Elhanan Mobely;

Which was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Senate be informed thereof.

Mr. Hull moved that the House take up joint resolution No. 362. A joint resolution demanding justice to our brave Volunteers ;

The ayes and noes were called by Messrs. Lane and Hull.

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Armstrong, Blythe, Bryant, Campbell, Dobson, Dunham, Ford, Hall, Hetfield, Holden, Hull, Jones of Switzerland, Kennard, Lane, Line, May, McConnell, McCormick, McDonald of Adams, Neal, Norris, Orton, Richmond, Roache, Short, Tinbrook, Trimble, Williams of Knox, Winstandley, and Wolfe—29.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Albin, Baldwin, Blackstone, Brown, Carr, Coble, Cole, Commons, Cookerly, Criswell, Davis, Dimmett, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Fuller, Gordon, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Huddleston, Hunt, Kinney, Lockwood, McCormick, McKinzie, Meredith, Miller, Nimmons, Orr, Prather, Sackett, Smiley, Terry, Thompson of Gibson, Williams of Madison, and Mr. Speaker—39.

So said joint resolution was not taken up.

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives, that the Senate has passed the following engrossed bill thereof :

No. 290. A bill to fix the salary of the trustees of the Wabash and Erie canal ;

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Said bill No. 290, was read a first and second times, the rules being suspended therefor,

When the Speaker laid the following communication from the Governor before the House :

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR :—The accompanying copy of a communication from Messrs. King, Winslow, and Perkins, Davis, Belmont, and Vermilye, who are public creditors of the State, in opposition to any reduction of the salaries of the two trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal, appointed by the creditors, it is requested may be laid before the House, because although addressed to me, it is evidently of a public character, and is therefore properly referable to the General Assembly which has now, it is understood, that subject under consideration.

I am very respectfully, your obedient servant,

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 12th, 1848.

His Excellency, James Whitcomb, Governor of Indiana :

DEAR SIR :—We regret to see that a bill has been introduced into the Legislature of Indiana, to reduce the salaries of the two canal trustees below the sum fixed by the bondholders, under the authority given them by the law.

We most respectfully submit that the Legislature ought not to interfere with this subject. The bondholders have not only agreed with the State to look exclusively to the canal for one-half their debt, thus releasing the State from all obligations on account of it; but they have gone further, and agreed to advance, for the purpose of completing the canal, large additional sums of money; under these circumstances it was but right to give the bondholders the control of that work, and the right of saying what compensation (being reasonable) should be paid to those whom they might employ to conduct the business ; and the law accordingly in our view gave them the right of fixing the salaries of the two trustees appointed by themselves. In the exercise of this right they fixed the salary of the non-resident trustee at $4,000, and that of the resident trustee at $2,000, not that their appointees might receive large salaries, but with a view to their own personal interests in the matter, in procuring responsible and efficient services, and paying for the same, what such services from such men would be fairly and reasonably worth. This should be viewed as a matter of the bondholders ; they are the parties immediately and deeply interested ; and they ought to be permitted to adopt and pursue such course as their own judgment shall approve not inconsistent with the end and objects of the trust. Knowing the expenses of living in this city, we speak advisedly when we say that a competent trustee who must reside in this city, four thousand dollars is by no means an unreasonable salary.

We feel that injustice would be done by a reduction of the salaries or by the interference of the Legislature in the matter, the consequence of which would be to drive from the management of the canal competent men in whom the bondholders have confidence, and the substitution of others of less ability ; for we are sure that a competent trustee in this city, cannot be expected to devote his time and attention to the trust, for less than $4,000 per annum.

We are, sir,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servants,

JAMES G. KING,
WINSLOW & PERKINS,
CH. AUG. DAVIS,
AUG. BELMONT,
W. M. VERMILYE.

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred the petition of Adam Pence and others, of Delaware, Madison, and Grant counties, praying for a certain State road therein named, have had that subject under consideration, and directed me to report the following bill and recommend its passage, viz. :

No. 502. A bill to locate a State road in the counties of Delaware, Madison, and Grant;

Which was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Dougherty, on leave, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on claims, to whom was referred the message of the Governor, relative to the claim of Joseph I. Stretcher and Robert N. Allen, commissioners appointed by the Governor, under a joint resolution relative to the removal of the remains of Tilghman A. Howard, approved January 26, 1847, have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report the accompanying bill and recommend its passage :

No. 503. A bill for the relief of Joseph I. Stretcher and Robert N. Allen, commissioners appointed by the Governor, under a joint resolution of the last session of the General Assembly, providing for the removal of the remains of the late Hon. Tilghman A. Howard from the State of Texas to the State of Indiana ;

Was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. May, on leave, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred (by resolution No. 21) so much of the Governor's message as relates to voluntary associations, and private legislation, have had the subject under consideration, and directed me to report, that they fully concur with the views of His Excellency the Governor respecting the evils arising from the sanction special legislation has hitherto received. The committee are fully satisfied that the bounds to which local legislation has extended, is a serious evil—that it draws large sums from the treasury without producing any benefits, and wholly destroys that uniformity in our municipal regulations which good policy requires should exist throughout the State. Blieving with the Governor "that all necessary powers should, by general laws, be conferred upon other and more appropriate tribunals to afford relief, sought by means of private acts," the committee urge the propriety of withholding legislative sanction to any measure the objects of which can be obtained under the act authorizing the formation of voluntary associations, approved January 27, 1847. Not being prepared to urge the passage of any additional enactments restricting special legislation, the committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject ;

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Lane moved to strike out " one dollar and fifty cents " and insert " two dollars. "

Which did not prevail.

The amendment was then adopted.

Mr. Williams of M., offered the following amendment :

SEC. —. That George Millspaugh, George L. Hoover, and Enos B. Wright, be allowed the sum of ten dollars each, for that amount by each of them paid for teams and teamsters by them employed to transport the Marion Guards, under command of Captain John M. Wallace, from Andersontown, in Madison county, to Edinburgh, in Johnson county.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Trimby offered the following amendment :

That William Youse, Sergeant-at-Arms, be allowed fifteen dollars traveling expenses, (174 miles.)

Which was laid upon the table.

Said bill was then ordered to be engrossed for a third reading on to-morrow.

Mr. Dougherty asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Smiley for the remainder of the session.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Secretary of State :

HON. WM. A. PORTER,
Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR :—I am informed that the Senate have by resolution appointed the 15th instant as the period for the final adjournment of the General Assembly, and that the concurrence of the House over which you preside is required to fix upon that day.

I have thought it due to inform the House of Representatives, through you, that from the great mass of bills and joint resolutions which have for the last three or four days been passed and sent to my office for enrollment, that it is utterly impossible for me to procure a sufficient number of competent clerks to enroll the same so as to have all ready for the Executive approval before next Friday, although I have now all the available labor that can be commanded.

JNO. H. THOMPSON.

Saturday, Feb. 12, 1848.

Mr. Smiley, on leave, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee to whom was referred a bill of the Senate No. 178, fixing corporate limits of the town of Lafayette, have had that matter under consideration, and have unanimously directed me to report the bill back to the House, and recommend its indefinite postponement ;

Which was concurred in,
 And said bill was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Hull, on leave, introduced,

No. 506. A joint resolution in relation to the expenses incurred by this State in raising volunteers for the Mexican war ;

Which was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Bryant, on leave, made the following report,

Which was laid on the table :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on ways and means to which was referred a resolution of the House, making inquiry respecting the transfer of certain State bonds issued on account of the State Bank to the internal improvement fund, has had the same under consideration, and directed me to report the accompanying letter of the President of the State Bank in relation thereto, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject :

STATE BANK, INDIANAPOLIS, FEB. 11, 1848.

C. L. DUNHAM, ESQ.,
Chairman, &c.,

SIR:—Your note of this day containing a copy of a resolution of the House of Representatives is just received, in which you refer also to the 18th page of the auditor's report, where that officer says :

|                                                  |                |
|--------------------------------------------------|----------------|
| "The amount of bonds issued on account of State  |                |
| Bank, it will be seen by the above is, - - -     | $2,412,000 00 |
| The amount on which the bank pays interest is, - | 1,390,000 00   |
|                                                  | <hr/>          |
| Difference, - - - - -                            | $1,022,000 00 |

This sum, although a loss by the bank is transferred to the internal improvement system, with what propriety, or by what authority, does not appear by any record of this office."

And you inquire "whether any legal authority exists for such transfer, and under what circumstances it was made, and any other information which the bank may be in possession of, in relation to these particulars?"

In reply to the inquiries, I have the honor to state, that under the act establishing a State Bank, the fund commissioners obtained the contemplated loan of $1,390,000 for the State, and paid it over on the act required; and in pursuance of the same act, the commissioners of the sinking fund, have ever since paid the interest on that loan.

The other bonds, which it is stated, were issued by the fund commissioner, "on account of State Bank," were, it is understood, sold, but excepting a small sum, were never paid for.

These latter, as we are advised, were issued under the act of 12th of Feb. 1839, entitled "An act providing for the increase of the stock of the State Bank," the object of which act, and the loan contemplated by the State under it, was to sustain the "internal improvement system," as appears by the 5th section thereof, which is as follows :

"Sec. 5. The amount of said loans shall be subscribed and paid over by said commissioner of the sinking fund, as bank stock in the branches of the State Bank, at fifty dollars for each share; the dividends on which shall be first applied to the payment of interest on said loan, and the overplus is hereby appropriated to internal improvement, to be applied in the payment of interest on State bonds sold for that purpose, in such manner as the Legislature shall direct."

This act was clearly a project for paying in part the internal improvement debt, as it contemplated a loan of no less than five millions of dollars, to be invested by the State in bank capital, on which the bank could issue ten millions of circulation, and all the profits were appropriated to "internal improvements."

As the bonds were issued thus to sustain the internal improvement system, and were not received, nor the funds as expected from the loan by the bank, it is probable the officers of State deemed it appropriate to regard the bonds as having been issued on account of internal improvements.

If there have been any transfers of the account of these bonds, it of course does not fall within the knowledge of the bank, as we are not apprised how the account of such bonds have been kept by the officers of State.

It is certainly a misapprehension to regard any loss on such bonds, as being "a loss by the bank."

Very respectfully,

J. MORRISON, Pres't.

Mr. Cookerly moved a call of the House;

Which was not seconded.

On motion by Mr. McDonald of Lake,

The following message from the Senate, by Mr. Test, their Secretary, was taken up:

<sup>r</sup>

MR. SPEAKER:

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have concurred in the following resolution of the House:

Resolved, That this House will, the Senate concurring therein, adjourn sine die on Thursday the 17th February, with the following amendment:

Strike out "Thursday the 17th," and insert "Tuesday the 15th."

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

The question pending at a former adjournment was,

Will the House reconsider the vote on concurring in the amendment of the Senate?

It was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Harvey moved to concur in the amendment of the Senate to said resolution, with the following amendment:

Strike out "Tuesday the 15th," and insert "Friday the 18th."

On which motion the ayes and noes were demanded by Messrs. Short and Dougherty.

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

So said amendment was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Cookerly, on leave granted, offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the name of each member be called, and if any one has any business to introduce to the House, he shall then present the same, after which no new business will be received by this House, unless by unanimous consent.

Mr. Kinney moved to amend said resolution by inserting after the word "called," the words, "this afternoon at 2'oclock."

Which was adopted.

The question being,

Shall the resolution as amended, be adopted?

It was decided in the affirmative.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Rousseau, a Senator.

MR. SPEAKER :

Mr. Jones of Switzerland made the following report,

Which was laid on the table :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee to whom was referred that portion of the Governor's message which relates to the constitutional treasury of the United States, respectfully report ;

That in approaching the consideration of this important subject, at this time, they are happy to find it unencumbered with the weights that have heretofore surrounded it. The bolts and bars, and deep dark vaults of the hideous subtreasury, have lost their terrors in the minds of the American people. It now appears as an institution formed by the fathers of our country; and in it, as well as in many other principles of our glorious constitution, men are irresistibly compelled to acknowledge the wisdom and foresight of its framers.

The constitutional treasury went into operation on the first of January, 1847, and according to the report of the secretary of the treasury, during the first eleven months, there was received for loans, customs, lands, and miscellaneous collections, the sum of $48,667,886 18 in specie, and the sum of $48,226,516 31 during the same eleven months disbursed in specie, making altogether, in receipts and disbursements, the sum of $96,894,402 49. It has been tried during a period of war, when, in the language of Mr. Walker in his report, it was necessary to negotiate very large loans, when our expenditures were being increased, and when transfers, unprecedented in amount, were required to distant points for disbursement. Notwithstanding all this, during the last eleven months the government has received, transferred, and disbursed more specie than during the whole aggregate period of fifty-seven years since the adoption of the constitution.

Mr. Walker further says, that during the year ending June 30, 1847, our imports of specie were $24,121,289, most of which under former systems must have gone into the banks, to have been made the basis of issues of their paper to the additional amount of fifty or sixty millions of dollars. Such an expansion, during the last spring and summer, accompanied by still higher prices, and followed by a greater fall, and by bankruptcies in England to an extent heretofore unknown, finding our banks and credit greatly expanded, and reacting upon this expansion would have produced a revulsion here, exceeding any that has heretofore occurred in the country.

A general requisition of the banks would probably have resulted, depressing the wages of labor and prices of property and products, affecting injuriously the operations and credit even of the most solvent, and producing extensive bankruptcies. From this revulsion we have been saved by the Constitutional Treasury, by which the specie imported, instead of being converted into bank issues, has been made to circulate directly to a great extent as a currency among the people, having been received here during the last eleven months by the new orders of this department, under the act of 9th of February, 1793, and the zealous co-operation of the able and efficient head of the Mint of Philadelphia, to the unprecedented extent of $20,758,048 12, and there are thousands of our citizens now solvent and prosperous, who have been saved from ruin by the wholesome operations of the Constitutional Treasury. The banks that so unwisely opposed the system, have been rescued probably from another suspension, their stockholders, depositors, and other note-holders from severe losses, and the country and government from the ruinous effects of a depreciated paper currency. If the union of the government with the banks had continued, and their suspension and the depreciations of their paper occurred during the war requiring large specie disbursements, which suspended banks could not furnish, consequences the most disastrous to the honor and the interests of the country must have ensued.

The Government is now disconnected from banks, and yet its stock and notes are at par, although we have been constrained to contract heavy loans, and to keep larger armies in the field than at any former period. But during the last war, when the Government was connected with banks, its six per cent. stock and Treasury notes were depreciated twenty-five per cent., payable in bank paper twenty per cent. below par, thus amounting to a loss of forty-five cents in every dollar upon the operations of the Government.

Another and most happy effect of the Constitutional Treasury, is now beginning to be felt throughout the country. The great variety of foreign coin, its difference in value, and the uncertainty and loss to those who are not well informed on the subject, produce great perplexity and loss to the people in their moneyed transactions. This evil is being rapidly removed by the operation of the constitutional treasury; and even in Indiana our own American eagles, half eagles, and smaller coinage, are in circulation to a considerable extent, and are taking the place of the foreign coin.

The secretary remarks, that the amount of foreign coin or bullion coined this year at our mint and branch mints, under the new orders of this department, estimating December the same as November, would be $23,844,001 92, at which rate we would soon supply our own people with our own coin, and in time also, with our augmenting commerce, Americanize to a great extent the coin of the world, and thus introduce our simple and beautiful decimal currency gradually throughout all nations, substituting it for the complex system of pounds, shillings, and pence, or of doubloons, ducats, and rupees, which retard business and complicate accounts.

Heretofore the world has supplied us with foreign coin, which will not circulate among our people, because of its extreme complexity; but now our own coin is flowing into the channels of our own circulation, and must soon begin to diffuse itself into other nations, for their benefit as well as our own. The three things which most concern the progress of the wealth of the world, are free trade and uniformity in coinage, and in weights and measures. Coins as well as weights and measures for the benefit of all nations, ought to be uniform throughout the world, and if our decimal system of coinage should be more simple and perfect than that of any other nation, it ought to be, and ultimately will be, adopted, and lead to the introduction of the decimal system of weights and measures, as far as practicable, so that ultimately the coin and weights and measures may be simple and uniform throughout the world.

In view of such beneficial tendencies of the Constitutional Treasury, we cannot refrain from expressing our gratification that the executive of Indiana, in the exercise of his constitutional duty, has brought this important subject before the people of the State for their favorable consideration. It is peculiarly important to the people of Indiana. Under a different system, the people of this State, as well as of many others, were led from the heights of apparent prosperity to the very verge of hopeless bankruptcy and ruin. Indeed, in our own case, the ruin by many was deemed complete. The Governor has considered it his imperative duty to raise his warning voice against the approaches of a similar catastrophe, however insidiously it may be brought upon us.

The great sheet anchor of our prosperity is the Constitutional Treasury. Individual credit under a system of over-trading and extravagant bank issues, may be shipwrecked; but when the ship of state is properly balanced, no gale of misfortune will be able to overtake her path, and individual credit, if it ever does occasionally run riot, under the happy influences of the Constitutional Treasury, may be re-gained; but let all go down together in one common ruin, national and individuals, and our free institutions, now the wonder and admiration of the world, may be lost forever.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That in the operation of the Constitutional Treasury, during a period of war with a foreign country, and during a time of great monetary derangement in Europe, in which our own commercial men have stood firm, we recognize the wisdom of its policy, and the foresight of the American Statesman, who first adopted it as the early policy of this government; and the members of Congress from Indiana will be performing their duty and reflecting the expressed will of the State in resisting efforts to establish a different policy for the collection and disbursement of the public revenue.

CHARLES L. JONES,
GEO. W. LANE,
A. L. ROACHE.

Mr. Jones of Switzerland introduced

No. 515. A bill to revise and continue in force an act to incorporate a certain company;

Which was read a first time and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Kennard offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the State Printer be directed to deliver to the Secretary of State all reports ordered to be printed during the present session, and which may not be printed before the adjournment, so soon as printed, whose duty it shall be to forward the same to the members and officers, by mail, immediately after delivery.

Mr. Kinney made the following report, which was laid on the table:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on commerce and manufactories, to which was referred a resolution of this House directing it to inquire into whether the State of Indiana possesses any and what facilities for manufacturing purposes, have had that subject under consideration, and have instructed me to make the following report :

Agriculture is doubtless the most important of the objects which demand the attention of society, and its agents selected to make or modify laws, for the first and last physical want of man is food. The next object in the scale of importance is the manufacture of the metals into forms which lessen the labor of the tiller of the soil, and of the fabrics which protect him from the cold and add to the necessaries and comforts of life.

Although in all legislation we should keep steadily in view the most numerous and most important class of society, yet in proportion as our State becomes prosperous, wealthy, and educated, the manufacturing classes deserve our encouragement, and perhaps most of our time. The interests of the agriculturist are shielded by our constitution and by our general laws ; he requires no specific enactments to enable him the better to plant the seed or gather the harvest. But not so with the manufacturers whose labor and capital, to be most productive and most advantageous to themselves and society, must be used in combination, and under the safeguards of specific laws. We, therefore, in granting charters for the protection, and in passing acts for the proper management of associated capital, labor, and skill, whether directed to making the cloth we wear or the canal and railroad which lessens the cost of transporting our exports and imports, are, in truth, most effectually and beneficially discharging the duties we owe to our agricultural constituents.

The Anglo-Saxon has been called the manufacturing race, and justly so. Other races have limited their ambition and efforts to the bare necessities and luxuries of life. Ours, while it produces and accumulates these necessities in the greatest abundance, is chiefly distinguished for the manufacture of the conveniences of life. In Asia, Africa, Southern Europe, Southern and Central America, the abodes of other races, we find splendid temples, vast mounds, pyramids, and obelisks, magnificent palaces ; here richly caparisoned elephants, carrying the wealth of an empire in the turban and girdle of a prince ; there a temple crowded with a lazy priesthood, covered with ornaments of massive gold ; everywhere in striking contrast, pride and poverty, king and subject, master and slave, the well-fed priest of Baal and the starving devotee ; Cleopatra wasted under silken canopies and rowed by chained and naked slaves ; a Roman emperor, paying the tribute of a province for peacocks' tongues, while his people were starving in want of the coarsest food.

Our race requires no open temples, however costly, but warm dwellings. In the houses of our God the ear and not the eye is to be gratified. We buy no Tyrian silk until we have the more needful fabrics of cotton, hemp, flax, and wool.

It was the glory and boast of a French king that he had perfeeted the fabrics of tapestry and lace. Let it be our pride and care to direct industry to make the best plow, and the cheapest and most durable cloth.

But the cheapness and excellence of the fabric is not to be our only care; we must also look to the condition of the fabrication and the influence of that condition on society. In the progress of manufactures, various systems have obtained, and perhaps all the merits of each can now be impartially weighed by us. We are now under the direct influence of none, and we have, fortunately, the results of experience elsewhere, and have not to risk the chances of theory. In this brief report we cannot describe, in detail, the various combinations labor and capital have assumed in manufacturing employments. It is enough to remark that now there are two leading systems. First, that which obtains in Great Britain and France, where individuals of large means employ labor at the lowest rates it can be obtained, to make fabrics wholly or only in part. For instance, the Sheffield capitalist establishes a manufactory for making cutlery; if he builds a house for his operatives its apartments are entirely separate; each is furnished with power to be communicated to the unexpensive machinery the occupant may furnish. These occupants then receive materials or unfinished work, one fashions the blade, another the handle, while others—each doing but one thing—make the rivets, temper the metal, grind the blade, put the parts together, and polish the whole, &c. Here there is the slightest possible communication of the operatives with each other, and with their employers. The one gets all he can out of the other. The man of capital only requires physical force, and the man of labor can only get and only expects wherewithal to supply physical wants. This system, as the experience of a century has shown, has an irresistible tendency to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

The other is the system of free countries, where wealth is more equally distributed, where there is no law of entail, and nobility is of worth and not of birth. In Europe it is in partial operation, in Belgium, Germany, and Switzerland. Here we term it the Lowel system, in honor of the distinguished man, who, after carefully examining the various systems of Europe, adopted the best features of each to our people and institutions. Under this system the savings of the poor man out of the price of his labor can be put in the same stock which holds the accumulations of the rich man, and the dividends are in proportion to the stock; under this system the laborer receives higher wages, because the association of capital and labor, by increasing the productiveness of both, entitles each to higher profits. Under the one system the laborers' capital is in his machinery, tools, and building, and he cannot readily dispose of that capital at its value under the other, the stockholder furnishes everything, and the operative has his capital where it can accumulate and in a convertible form.

In short, he who takes wages under the one system finds it difficult to escape from the control of his employers, and away from the place of his bondage, while he who seeks employment under the other can go as voluntarily as he came, and he is under no dependence and feels none. Here labor meets capital as an equal, if either has the advantage it is the former, for the capital is fixed, and is wholly dependent on the laborer for productiveness.

This actual dependence, perhaps, is the parent of the many advantages that surround the manufacturing laborer in New England.

If we are correct in this view, it is important for us to encourage this American system, as its tendencies are to ennoble instead of degrade labor, and to prepare it for agricultural employments.

Your committee ask further the special attention of the Legislature and the people, to the fact that in our State the supply of our agricultural products are beginning to pass the limits of permanent demand, and that we now are looking to a continuance of the famine in England as the strongest ground of our hope of obtaining remunerating prices for our surplus pork and bread stuffs, and that while we thus depend on a contingency as uncertain as its existence would be deplorable, hundreds of thousands of our rich acres are annually added to our productive fields, and that the same progress in agricultural supply is going on as rapidly in our sister States. And we earnestly call to the serious attention of the people one of the first axioms of political economy, that when the supply of any article is beyond the demand, the consumer fixes its price. Are we not now paying the price of transportation on the food we supply to the manufacturer abroad, who pays us in the produce of his labor? and is it not manifestly to our interest to induce that laborer to come among us, and to save us that cost of transportation, and to give us whatever profits there are in the supply of all his wants?

It is said that our State has a soil, which, under the present ordinary methods of cultivation, is capable of sustaining a population of ninety millions of souls—that immediately under its surface lies iron ore and bituminous coal in sufficient abundance for the supply, for thousands of years, of that immense population!

To the juxta position of these two priceless minerals, England owes her power and greatness. To the same sources our sister State of Pennsylvania is looking as affording the elements of unbounded prosperity. Indiana has the same elements in a remarkable proportion. Her rivers—now navigable, or cheaply made so—at a thousand points cut through the richest deposits both of coal and iron, and cheaply furnish the facilities of transporting either; while artificial high-ways, canals, and railroads can be constructed over and through these deposits, at, perhaps, from one-sixth to one-tenth of their cost elsewhere, and where these minerals abound; and at the same time answer the purpose of the agriculturist as well as those of the miner and manufacturer. And your committee do not believe that there can be found elsewhere on the surface of the globe, a continuous territory of 37,000 square miles, where God has bestowed His choicest favors so bountifully. Of 23,000,000 acres, at least 20,000,000 are susceptible of cultivation, and without extraordinary cost.

We have many miles of lake and river navigation. Our country is so gently undulating that our rivers meander slowly from their sources—have made alluvial bottoms of vast extent and unsurpassed fertility; water for all purposes, but navigation, is as abundant in the summer as in the winter; our climate is genial, and our products are various. Take any route you choose, from the Ohio to the lake, and you can scarcely find a single section of land on which a good farm could not be made.

Similar causes must produce similar results. We have cheap food, cheap power, and easy communication, and we must have busy work-shops. These, in the words of Lord Bacon, are all the important elements of a prosperous country.

Your committee cannot close their report without adverting again to the direct advantage to the agriculturist resulting from the neighborhood of the manufacturer, and showing the advantage in the increased value of lands, and in the produce of lands.

In every country and in every period in the history of manufactories, the establishment of large manufactories has added vastly to the agricultural wealth of the surrounding country. About Auzburg, in Germany, and when that city was the seat of manufacturing industry, the rents of land were perhaps greater than in any part of Europe; the desolation of that industry by bad laws, was followed by the destruction of the country. In the neighborhood of Lyons and Amiens, in France, rents are immensely high. Since the rise of Manchester, in England, lands in the vicinity have rented at from fifteen to thirty dollars per acre which were once rabbit warrens, and would scarcely be considered fit for cultivation in places remote from manufacturing industry. In New England we have seen, during the last quarter of a century, how manufactories have added value to a barren soil. The prize farm of Massachusetts, a few years since, was one half a bog and the other half a mass of stone and pebbles; but the high prices of provisions justified the toilsome removal of the stone to the bog and the bog-earth to cover the stone. The agricultural products of the single county of Middlesex is estimated at over two millions of dollars per annum.

Such is the character of the results that must be shown in our State by the adoption of a like policy.

Your committee recommend to the kindness of the people, and to the fostering care of the Legislature, the capital and the labor from abroad, coming from whatsoever direction it may; and they recommend that our own surplus capital and labor be more largely directed to the second great interest of our country.

Your committee refer with unfeigned pleasure to the position which Indiana now occupies as a debt-paying State, and to the restoration of confidence abroad in our individual and public credit. The arrangements which have been so happily and satisfactorily made for the adjustment of our public debt, have removed the fears of emigrants and capitalists, and now we begin to see the tide of emigration returning to its old channels ; and in the recent introduction of charters for the protection of manufacturing capital, your committee see the indications that our vast natural advantages have begun to attract the attention of the cotton grower of the south and the cotton manufacturer of the east.

Mr. McDonald made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

A minority of the judiciary committee to which was referred a petition of certain citizens of Elkhart county praying an amendment of the execution laws, have had the same under consideration and directed me to report that they concur in opinion with the petitioners, that all laws are beneficial to communities, and strongly tend to uphold, protect, and perpetuate our free and happy institutions, which enable each and every citizen, to own and possess at least forty acres of land with reasonable improvements thereon, and a reasonable amount of personal property not less in amount than three hundred dollars, without danger of being dispossessed thereof by those shylocks who prey upon society through the technicalities of the law ; they have no doubt, that all laws which tend to produce an equality of property, tend to the retention in society, of individual and social happiness, individual and social honesty, morality, and individual and social independence ; without which, whatever may be the form of government, no community can be happy, wise, or great. In the opinion of the said minority of the committee, many, and irresistible, and unanswerable arguments might be advanced in favor of the prayer of the petitioners, but the late period of the session, and believing that this House, nor a majority of the citizens of this State, are not as yet sufficiently awake to the importance of the subject, they hereby report the said petition back to the House, and recommend that it be laid on the table :

Said committee was discharged from the further consideration of said subject.

Mr. McDonald of Lake, introduced

No. 518. A bill to authorize the location of a State road on the county line of Lake and Porter counties ;

Mr. McKinzie introduced

No. 519. A bill changing the mode of taking and hearing testimony in all proceedings in chancery, in the several counties of this State ;

Which was read a first time, and ordered to a second reading.

Mr. McKinzie made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary to whom was referred the petition of Samuel Dunning and 143 other citizens of Owen county, praying the passage of a law making it an indictable offence, to erect mill dams or other obstructions across White river, have had that matter under consideration, and have directed me to report that it is inexpedient to legislate upon that subject, for the following brief reasons :

1st. White river being a public highway, no person has the right to obstruct its navigation without rendering himself liable to an indictment by the existing laws, which amply provide for all cases of the kind, and also subjects himself to a civil action at the suit of any person who may be injured by the erection of such obstruction.

2d. If such obstructions work a public evil, or in other words a nuisance, any person has the right to abate it. And the Legislature has no right, or constitutional power, to enact a law giving to any person the privilege of erecting a dam across said river, which will in the least obstruct the navigation of the same. Our supreme court has decided that such acts are unconstitutional ; and said committee ask to be discharged ;

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Miller made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred bill No. 475, to vacate a certain road in Daviess county, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it back to the House, and recommend its indefinite postponement, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject ;

Which was concurred in.

Said bill was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Miller also make the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred Senate bill No. 148, to vacate a part of a State road in Tippecanoe county, have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report it back to the House, and recommend that it be laid on the table, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof ;

Which was concurred in.

Said bill was laid on the table.

Mr. Miller also made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred the petition and remonstrance of sundry citizens of Clinton county praying a change in a State road therein named, have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report it inexpedient to grant the prayers of the said petitioners, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject ;

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Miller also made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred petition, No. 25, of citizens of Elkhart county, have had the same under consideration and have directed me to report it inexpedient to legislate on the matters therein contained, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof ;

Which was concurred in.

Mr. Miller also made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on roads to whom was referred Senate bill, No. 248, to locate a State road from Logansport, in Cass county, to Winnemac, in Pulaski county, have had the same under consideration, and a majority of said committee have directed me to report said bill back to the House and recommend its passage ;

Said bill was considered as engrossed, read a third time, and passed.

Ordered, That the Senate be informed thereof.

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Test, their Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate have concurred in the engrossed amendments of the House to the engrossed bill of the Senate, entitled,

No. 242. An act to prevent the sale of spirituous liquors in Wayne and Franklin townships, in Wayne county, by a less quantity than ten gallons.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Test, their Secretary :

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Houghton, a Senator :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives, that the Senate have passed the following engrossed bill thereof, to-wit.:

No. 328. An act to repeal an act, entitled an act, to improve the navigation of Lost river, so far as relates to Martin county ;

In which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is respectfully requested.

Said bill in said message mentioned,

Was read three several times, the rules being suspended therefor, and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Lane, from the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on enrolled bills, have compared the following bills with the originals, and find them correctly enrolled, to-wit.:

No. 145. An act for the relief of the tax payers in this State ;

No. 196. An act to authorize a company to construct the Aurora and Laughery Turnpike ;

No. 197. An act to authorize a company to construct a Turnpike road from Mooresville to Aurora, in Dearborn county ;

Whereupon, the Speaker signed the same.

Ordered, That the Clerk take the same to the Senate for the signature of the President thereof.

Mr. Frazer, from the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on enrolled bills, have compared the following enrolled, with the engrossed bill, and find it correctly enrolled, to-wit.:

No. 425. An act amendatory to an act, establishing a free Turnpike road in the counties of Allen, Whitley, Kosciusko, and Marshall ;

Whereupon, the Speaker singed the same.

Ordered, That the Clerk take the same to the Senate for the signature of the President thereof.

Mr. Dunham, from the committee on free conference, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee, appointed to act with a similar committee on the part of the Senate, in counting and examining the State bonds, then in the hands of Michael G. Bright, Esq., the Agent of State, and which were surrendered under the act, approved January 19th, 1846, entitled "An act, to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie canal, to Evansville," and the act supplementary thereto, approved January 27th, 1847, would respectfully report, that they have discharged the duty assigned them, by examining and counting said bonds and the coupons thereto attached, and comparing them with the books of said Agent, and with his report made to the General Assembly at its present session. We found said bonds and coupons in his possession, to correspond with his registry thereof, and with said report, with the following exceptions, to-wit.:

There were missing, ten bonds, surrendered by Charles Stetson, comprising eight internal improvement bonds and two Madison and Indianapolis Railroad bonds, five bonds surrendered by Edwin Croswell, comprising three internal improvement bonds, and two Madison and Indianapolis Railroad bonds, Ambrose C. Kingsland, one internal improvement bond, August Belmont, one hundred and fifty-five bonds, comprising one hundred and fifty-four Wabash and Erie canal bonds. Ten Madison and Indianapolis Railroads bonds, and one Bank bond. These are bonds that have been surrendered subsequent to the 1st July, 1847, and indeed since said Agent left the city of New York, as your committee was informed by said Agent, and that in consequence thereof, said bonds were still remaining in the office of said Agent, in the city of New York.

Your committee also found one coupon, missing from the bonds of Richard W. Wood, but your committee think it but just to Mr. Bright, to say that from the condition in which said coupons were surrendered, in almost every case, more or less of them having been severed from the bonds, and the separated coupons, in some cases, being pinned to, or wafered on the bonds, and in some cases, tied up in packages and promiscuous bundles, and sent in to said Agent, in a state of confusion. It is a matter of very great surprise, not that this coupon has been lost, but that more of them were not lost or mislaid; and the fact that this is the only one missing, speaks more for the careful and correct manner in which Mr. Bright has discharged this arduous portion of the duties of his office, than any thing that could be said by your committee. Said bonds and coupons examined and counted, were all properly cancelled and put in packages, and so marked, as to afford an easy and speedy reference either to said bonds, or to the books wherein they were conveniently and systematically registered. Indeed your committee cannot speak too highly of the excellent and safe manner in which they found every thing connected with said bonds and books arranged; and it is but due to Mr. Bright, to say in conclusion, that he rendered your committee every assistance in his power, to enable them, thoroughly to discharge the duties assigned them.

C. L. DUNHAM,
S. MEREDITH.

Mr. Dunham, on leave,

Made the following report from the committee of ways and means :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee of ways and means, whose duty it is to enquire into the financial condition of the State, and to examine into the offices of the treasurer and auditor of State, respectfully submit the following report.

They have examined those offices as faithfully and diligently as their other duties would permit. The vouchers for all warrants drawn upon the treasury during the same period, were examined and found to correspond with their books and published reports.— They would remark that every facility was furnished them by those officers, for the due prosecution of their labors. They feel it incumbent upon them further to remark, that from an examination into the books and accounts, they believe the complicated and responsible duties appertaining to those offices have been discharged in a manner worthy of the highest praise.

Among other duties, it became necessary for the committee to count and destroy a large amount of various kinds of scrip, which had been redeemed and cancelled at the treasury during the last year.

The following is an abstract of the several kinds of funds destroyed :

|                                                                     |   |   |   |   |                    |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|---|---|---|---|--------------------|
| Of six per cent treasury notes,                                     | - | - | - | - | $70,580 00        |
| Interest allowed thereon, -                                         | - | - | - | - | 26,778 60          |
| Total, - - - - -                                                    | - | - | - | - | $97,358 60 |
| Of five per cent. bank scrip, -                                     | - | - | - | - | $56,400 00        |
| Interest allowed thereon, -                                         | - | - | - | - | 14,317 58          |
| Total, - - - - -                                                    | - | - | - | - | $70,717 58 |
| Of Wabash and Erie Canal scrip, east of Tippecanoe river, - - - - - | - | - | - | - | $14,165 45        |
| Interest allowed thereon, -                                         | - | - | - | - | 2,119 24           |
| Total, - - - - -                                                    | - | - | - | - | $16,284 69 |
| Of quarter per cent. scrip, - - - - -                               | - | - | - | - | $28,750 00        |
| Of Wabash and Erie Canal scrip, west of Tippecanoe river, - - - - - | - | - | - | - | $31,425 00        |

The committee have also counted and mutilated of the Internal Improvement bonds that have been redeemed and canceled at the treasury, and coupons amounting in all to the sum of $25,800 00.

Making in all of the state liabilities, counted, mutilated, and destroyed by the committee the sum of $270,335 87, of which more detailed statements are hereto appended, marked A and B.

From an examination into the condition of the treasury, it appears that there was on hand on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1847, the sum of $594,681 61. And on the first day of January, A. D. 1848, there was in the treasury, provided all warrants issued prior to that date had been redeemed, the sum of $439,774 02.

The items of receipts and expenditures from which said balances were struck, will be found appended hereto and marked C.

All warrants drawn upon the treasury have been promptly paid; and the committee believe that by an economical system the same prosperous condition of the treasury may safely be relied on for the future.

The full and ample reports of the State officers relative to the present and future resources of the State, and her ability to meet those renewed obligations into which she has recently entered for the payment of the interest on the State debt, which have been published and laid before the House, render it unnecessary for the committee to enter upon the discussion of this important topic.

The rate of taxation for State purposes, proper, has been fixed, in the revenue bill reported to the House, the same as in the two preceding years.

The different assessments for the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, the Deaf and Dumb Assylum, and for the education of the Blind, amount in the aggregate to the sum of five cents on each one hundred dollars valuation of property.

The slight increase of taxation for those benevolent institutions of the State, was made with a view to the speedy completion of a portion of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane, for the reception of inmates, and for the erection of a building for the deaf and dumb, and to pay for the building site for the institution for the blind.—Your committee feel proud to remark, that not a murmur has been raised by the people of Indiana, at the taxation for these purposes that while they have been nobly struggling to redeem the credit of the State abroad, they have not been forgetful of the interests of humanity within her borders.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. L. DUNHAM,
JAMES R. M. BRYANT,
GEO. W. LANE,
SAM. W. SHORT.

The following message was received from the Governor by Mr. Sleeth his Secretary :

To the House of Representatives :

GENTLEMEN :—The accompanying bills entitled “An act to vacate the streets and alleys and town lots in Georgetown in the county of Adams,” and an act to vacate certain enlargements to the city of Evansville, are returned to your House in which they originated without my approval, for the reasons heretofore given on similar occasions; that is to say, that ample power already exists under a general law for accomplishing the same object, by application to the corporate authorities of an incorporated town or city, and to the board of county commissioners in case it is not incorporated or where its corporate powers have fallen into disuse. That mode is less expensive, less liable to invade private rights, or public convenience, and is not attended with so much delay.

As a former message involving the same question was not sustained by the House at the present session, I should not feel it incumbent upon me to transmit the present one, involving as it does only a question of expediency, were it not that it is understood the Senate afterwards sustained the principle on its separate action.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 15, 1848.

The question then being put,

Shall said bill No. 269 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

The ayes and noes were ordered.

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Blythe, Brown, Bryant, Cole, Cookerly, Danner, Davis, Dole, Frazer, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Hull, Lockwood, McKinzie, Meredith, Morrison, Orton, Robinson, Stone, and Mr. Speaker—25.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Carr, Chambers, Dimmett, Dobson, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Lichteberger, Major, May, Mills, May, Roache, Rulon, Short, Shryock, Sullivan, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, and Williams of Knox—22.

No quorum voting, the question remains among the unfinished business of the session.

And the question also being put,

“Shall said bill No. 184 become the law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor,”

The ayes and noes being ordered,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Blythe, Brown, Bryant, Cole, Cookerly, Criswell, Dole, Frazer, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Hull, McKinzie, Meredith, Orton, Robinson, Stone, Thompson of Gibson, and Mr. Speaker—20.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Chambers, Dimmett, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Lane, Lichteberger, Lockwood, Major, May, Mills, Norris, Rulon, Short, Sullivan, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—21.

No quorum voting, the question remains among the unfinished business of this session.

The following message was received from the Governor, by Mr. Sleeth, his Private Secretary :

TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

Gentlemen—The accompanying bills, entitled, severally, “an act to vacate a certain street in the village of Byron in Laporte county,” and “an act to vacate a part of the town of Hagerstown in Wayne county,” are returned to the House in which they originated, with the objection which has constrained me to withhold my approval.

That objection has already been communicated with a former bill for a similar object, and is in short, that ample provision already exists for vacating streets, alleys, lots, towns, and parts of towns, under a general law, with far less danger of violating private or public rights, attended with far less expense ; and that expense, too, not imposed upon the tax payers of this State.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 14th, 1848.

The question then being put,
 "Shall said bill No. 165 become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor,
 The ayes and noes being ordered,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Baldwin, Blythe, Brown, Cole, Cookerly, Criswell, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Hull, McKinzie, Meredith, Morrison, Orton, Robinson, Stone, and Mr. Speaker—18.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Chambers, Davis, Dimmett, Dobson, Dole, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Lane, Lichteberger, May, Norris, Richmond, Roache, Rulon, Short, Shryock, Sullivan, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—24.

No quorum voting, the question remains among the unfinished business of the session.

And the question also being put,

"Shall said bill No. 262 become the law notwithstanding the objection of the Governor?"

And the ayes and noes being ordered,

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Baldwin, Blythe, Brown, Cole, Cookerly, Criswell, Dole, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Hull, Lockwood, McKinzie, Morrison, Orton, Robinson, Stone, and Mr. Speaker—19.

THURSDAY MORNING FEBRUARY 17, 1848.

The House met.

A message from His Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Sleeth, his Private Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER:

I am directed by the Governor to inform the House of Representatives that the following bill having been presented to him for his approval more than five days ago, but time for the desired research not having been afforded in the hurry of official business, the same has not been approved, nor returned to the House with his objections down to the present time, the same has therefore become a law :

No. 60. An act to incorporate the Madison and Brownstown Turnpike Road Company, by way of Kent, in the county of Jefferson, and Wooster, in the county of Scott;

Which originated in the House of Representatives.

February 17th, 1848.

The following message was received from the Governor, by Mr. Sleeth, his Private Secretary :

To the House of Representatives :

GENTLEMEN : I herewith return certain bills which originated in the House, entitled :

"An act to vacate a portion of a certain street therein named ;" also,

"An act to vacate certain streets and alleys in New Carlisle, in St. Joseph county ;"

"An act to vacate an alley in the town of Greencastle ;" also,

"An act to vacate a part of Union street, in the town of Decatur, in the county of Adams ;" also,

"An act to vacate the town of Florentine, in Tippecanoe county, Indiana,"

Without my approval, for reasons heretofore given at the present session, to which you are respectfully referred. It may be sufficient now to say, that ample provision is already made, under an existing general law, for accomplishing the same objects, at far less expense to the public, without so much delay, and without the same danger of violating public or private rights.

JAMES WHITCOMB.

February 16, 1848.

And the question being put,
 "Shall said bills, mentioned in said message, become laws notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"
 And the ayes and noes being ordered.

Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Baldwin, Criswell, Lane, Lockwood, Robinson, Stone, and Mr. Speaker—7.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Chambers, Davis, Dimmitt, Holden, Jones of Bartholomew, Lichteberger, Roach, Thompson of Gibson, Williams of Knox, and Wolfe—10.

There being no quorum voting, the question was not determined.

A message from the Senate, by Mr. Berry a Senator :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives, that the Senate have adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That a committee of two be appointed on the part of the House of Representatives, to wait on his Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that both Houses have gone through with their Legislative business, and are now ready to adjourn sine die, if he has no further communication to make to them, and that the House be informed of the adoption of this resolution.

Whereupon the Chair appointed Messrs. Cookerly and Jones of Bartholomew, said committee.

Mr. Cookerly made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The select committee appointed to wait on the Governor, beg leave to inform the House that they have performed said duty, and that the Governor has no further legislative business to communicate to the House.

Mr. Wolfe moved a call of the House ;
 Which was seconded.

Those who were present when the roll was called were Messrs. Blythe, Brown, Bryant, Chambers, Cole, Cookerly, Criswell, Davis, Dimmett, Dobson, Dunham, Ford, Fuller, Gooding, Graham, Hankins, Harding, Harvey, Holden, Hull, Jones of Bartholomew, Lane, Lichteberger, Lockwood, Major, May, McMinzie, Meredith, Mills, Morrison, Norris, Orton, Roache, Robinson, Rulon, Sackett, Short, Shryock, Stone, Sullivan, Thompson of Gibson, Tinbrook, Williams of Knox, Windstanly, Wolfe, and Mr. Speaker—46.

Those who were absent were Messrs. Albin, Armstrong, Blackstone, Bowling, Campbell, Carr, Coble, Coffin, Colip, Commons, Covington, Danner, De Bruler, Dole, Dougherty, Doyle, Frazer, Goodman, Gordon, Hall, Hamilton, Harlan, Hetfield, Huddleston, Hunt, Jones of Switzerland, Keiser, Kennard, Kinney, Line, Little, Lowe, McConnell, McCormick, McDonald of Adams, McDonald of Lake, Miller, Neal, Neff, Nimmons, Orr, Parker, Prather, Richmond, Slater, Smiley, Stanton, Swihart, Terry, Thompson of Carroll, Trimble, Widney, Williams of Madison—54.

Mr. Dobson obtained leave to withdraw from the files a certain bill in relation to building a bridge across White river.

On motion by Mr. Wolfe,

Resolved, That the House has gone through with its legislative business, and is now ready to adjourn sine die, and that the Senate be informed thereof.

A message was received from the Senate by Mr. Berry a Senator.

MR. SPEAKER:

The Senate has adopted the following resolution :

Resolved, That the House of Representatives be informed that the Senate have gone through with their legislative business and are now ready to adjourn sine die.

Mr. Robinson moved that the House adjourn sine die.

Whereupon the speaker arose and said :

GENTLEMEN :—We have now finished the legislative business of the session and are about to separate ; and I hope that we will do so with consciences clear that we have done our duty faithfully to ourselves and to our constituents. Our labors have been somewhat tedious and laborious. We have transacted a large amount of business, and whether that business is for good or for evil to the country, is soon to be submitted to our constituents for their decision, and to the more certain test of experience.

Many measures have been brought here for our consideration, which were calculated to have an important bearing upon the present and future interests of community ; some of them have passed the ordeal and have become laws ; others have been defeated. For our action on all these, we will have to account to our constituents ; and it would be very gratifying to us if we could be assured now, that on a final reckoning, they would say to us, you have been faithful and profitable servants. But be their decision what it will, we must meet it.

But before we separate, it may not be amiss to turn our thoughts for a moment towards ourselves. We have been laboring here together for several weeks, each for the advancement of his favorite measures.

Under such circumstances it is almost impossible that our interests would not sometimes be antagonistical. This state of things may sometimes have excited our feelings. If such has been the case, or if from any cause, any of us have suffered our feelings to be ruffled towards others, I hope that every one before he leaves his Hall, will completely divest himself of that feeling, never again to resume it, and separate with those kind feelings only which characterize brothers.

Your kindness at the commencement of the session placed me in a responsible situation, and imposed upon me duties which I know I have not always been able properly to discharge. Indeed I can look back over the past, and in my mind's eye see many things that I have done, that with my present experience I could improve. Those errors of mine I hope you will refer to the proper source, my lack of parliamentary experience; and believing that you will do so, I shall leave this Hall with no other regret, than that of not having discharged my duty better. And I shall leave it also with the pleasing reflection, that I have never entertained, nor had cause to entertain towards any one here other than feelings of the most lively friendship, and with the belief that no other than similar feelings have been entertained towards me.

I now pronounce this House adjourned Sine die.

M. S. WARD,
Principal Clerk.

ANDREW J. HAY,
Assistant Clerk, House of Representatives.
